BLANCHE SWEET IN "PUBLIC OPINION."

Scene from Lasky Production at Arcade, Today and Tomorrow.

Blanche Sweet, the brilliant Lasky star, who has established herself among the idols of the screen, will be seen at the Arcade today and tomorrow in the thrilling society drama "Public Opinion," written especially for her by Margaret Turnbull, celebrated novelist. It is a Paramount program release. Blanche Sweet is one of the most interesting personalities before the theatre-going public. She has been seen as a rag a muffin, a member of the Russian royal household, a Swedish maid-of-all-work, and an anarchist, and now in "Public Opinion" she appears as a trained nurse on trial for murder.

How a sensational newspaper report prejudices the mind of the public against this young woman who is absolutely innocent of all wrong, and how her whole future happiness is jeopardized by what is supposed to have been one false step, is shown in a gripping and entertaining manner.

One of the unusual features of this striking photodrama, is the efforts of the spirit of the woman the nurse is supposed to have poisoned, to direct the hand of justice towards the guilty person. Throughout the story until the murderer is finally forced to confess, the spirit of the dead woman tries to bring the guilty to justice.

Miss Sweet is surrounded by a cast of unusual excellence, including such well known players as Earle Foxe, Edythe Chapman, Elliott Dexter, Tom Forman and Raymond Hatton.

The production is one of the most lavish the Lasky company has ever made. The big court room scene is an exact replica of that in which the trial was held upon which the story is based.

At Sherry's—Last Day.

The story of a woman's rise from proprietor of a small saloon in the West to wife of an Eastern clubman is told in William Fox's new picture which features Virginia Pearson, "Daredevil Kate."

The workmen at Devil's Gap are dissatisfied with the treatment they receive from their Eastern headquarters, so they cause trouble which results in the bringing to their town of several Easterners. One of these is Cliff Stone, another is Irene West, Stone's adopted sister, and the third is John West, Irene's husband. Stone and West are to take over the management of the Western works of the company. Kate at first takes sides with the new arrivals, for she has fallen in love with Cliff Stone. But Irene's unwarranted interference in their romance turns her against the intruders, and she decides to help the miners, and not the managers.

When the whole plan is about to reach its climax and Kate is about to expose to the owner of the mine just how easily she can control his Eastern employees, she discovers that Irene is her own sister, from whom she had been separated years before. So she turns the tables on the miners, holds them up to ridicule instead of the men they had been plotting against, and establishes West and Stone firmly with their company.

Incidentally, she agrees to marry Cliff Stone.
