Little Miss Happiness never misses happiness. In her newest picture for William Fox, "Little Miss Happiness," famous June Caprice plays the part of an innocent country girl, Lucy White.

Complications begin when Sadie Allen (Zena Keefe), daughter of a neighbor and customer of Lucy's, returns to the home village. Sadie has been trying to make a living in the city. Where she has met and married Max Barker (Leo Kennedy).

To ward off her father's anger, Sadie begs Lucy to take care of the baby until things can be explained to him. Lucy, who has always loved children, is glad of the opportunity.

Finally Barker comes to the village on a visit to a friend. He meets Sadie there, finds that he still loves her, and begs her to return.

Protecting Living Things.

We have reached a period of human history in which man finally recognizes his oneness with the great tribe of life and is willing to receive all growing and sentient things into his protection and care.—Boston Herald.

ARCADE

Arcade.

Fannie Ward, the brilliant Lasky star, who will be the Paramount attraction at the Arcade on Friday and Saturday in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Each Pearl a Tear," was curled up on a couch in her big dressing room, and there were flowers everywhere.

"I enjoyed doing "Each Pearl a Tear," smiled Miss Ward, "because it is what I call a constructive play; that is, it builds up a better feeling for the photodrama, and in a way will present a strong lesson and be a warning to a great many people.

"You see," she explained, raising herself on her elbow, "I play the role of the daughter of the old employee of a very wealthy and unscrupulous man. This man, knowing the average woman's fondness for jewelry, employs that means to entice them to him. He persuaded me to wear a valuable string of pearls—which, by the way, I loaned the company out of my own personal collection—and then intimates that I have lost them. My father having died from a stroke of paralysis, I am forced to work as this man's stenographer to repay him for his loss, and all the time he has the pearls concealed in his safe. I found this out, and how I eventually ruined him and am won by the man I love, is brought about in a way I have never seen done before, and I don't believe you have."

"Yes," Miss Ward replied in answer to a question, "I had a very nice vacation in New York, but I am certainly glad I am not there now. I went there principally to lay in a new stock of gowns, and according to my friends, I bought everything in sight—but this is not so, as there is only one designer in the country whom I patronize, and I take only his best creations. I did get some very nice frocks while there, and everyone of them will be displayed before long."

"They have not selected the picture I am to do next, but I want to be a country girl if I can and run around in bare feet and overalls. I had some pictures taken like that the other day, and there is nothing I would like better than a tom-boy part, and some day I may get my wish."

"Somewhere in France."

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—(Special)—George Washington, a United States Marine from Kentucky who does not bid fair to emulate the truth-telling record of his illustrious namesake, marched proudly down Broad Street today with a newly won sharpshooter's medal pinned to the breast of his uniform.

Attracted by the medal which closely resembles the Maltese cross worn by some European heroes, an old gentleman asked him how he had won it, and George delivered a picturesque account of stirring deeds on shell-ton battlefields, while one by one the crowd gathered and listened in awestruck silence.

"But I say old chap," interrupted a stranger, "where did this all happen?" "Oh, somewhere in France," returned George cheerfully, and the spellbinder's audience melted away.

Oregon's "Punkin Center."

The near-statesmen over in the resplendent Willamette who are urging with the full power of their lusty lungs that Oregon's state government should acquire and set aside all of the lime deposits within the state for the purpose of reclaiming their wornout and soured soils, should be made acquainted with the actual facts. In truth there are natural deposits of lime within eye vision from Joseph valley from end to end and then some. Oregon is a mighty big state and while the Willamette valley may yet lay claim to being the punkin center of the common wealth there are other things besides punkins that make for wealth and thrift, the last named quality being a human attribute more or less absent over Willamette way.—Joseph Herald.

FOR OVER FORTY YEARS A NATIONAL FAVORITE

Sweet Caporal cigarettes have been on the market for over four decades, and are more popular today than ever. This wonderful record has never been duplicated by any other cigarette. In all these years countless brands of cigarettes have come and gone, but Sweet Caporal keeps on gaining in favor year after year.

SMOKERS INTERESTED IN CIGARETTE DEMONSTRATION

There has never been a more striking demonstration of cigarette quality than the novel burning test of Sweet Caporal cigarettes now being given by a trained corps of demonstrators. These men first burn a piece of ordinary paper and call smokers' attention to the heavy smoke, odor, and black, soot-like ash.

UNIQUE IN FLAVOR

That is one reason for the perennial popularity of Sweet Caporal Cigarettes. No other cigarette has ever duplicated the pure tobacco flavor of Sweet Caporal—the mellow, sweet, mature-made taste of ripe tobacco. That is why smokers always come back to Sweet Caporal—no other cigarette gives them the same enjoyment.

That is the wonderful tribute recorded by the recent Sweet Cigarette Survey. No other cigarette has ever received such a tribute.

FAMOUS "SWEET CAPS"

Sweet Caporal cigarettes are made of the finest tobacco in the world. The highest quality of tobacco is used in the manufacture of Sweet Caporal cigarettes. The result is a cigarette of pure tobacco flavor, mellow, sweet, and mature-made. No other cigarette gives you the same enjoyment.

"SWEETS" IN CLUBS Every club and hotel in America, and hundreds of the best businesses in Europe, sell Sweet Caporal cigarettes. No other cigarette at the same price is carried in these places.

SMOKED BY THOUSANDS OF PHYSICIANS

Sweet Caporal cigarettes are the favorite brand of medical men everywhere. Over fifteen thousand physicians in the United States are Sweet Caporal smokers. No greater tribute could be paid to the purity of Sweet Caporal cigarettes than this. Physicians know Sweet Caporal is good pure tobacco—that is why they smoke "Sweets."
