MAE MURRAY IN "THE BIG SISTER"

MAE MURRAY in "THE BIG SISTER." FAMOUS PLAYERS-PARAMOUNT

Scene from Famous Players-Paramount Production at Arcade Today and Tomorrow.

ARCADE

"The Big Sister."

When Mae Murray was tangoing and performing her other well-known dances in the "Follies" not so very long ago she would have laughed at the suggestion that she would be playing a dramatic role in motion pictures, but that only proves that Miss Murray is very human and not gifted with the properties of a seerss. For she is being starred by the Famous Players Film company in an extremely dramatic part in "The Big Sister," a Paramount picture which is the feature at the Arcade today and tomorrow.

Miss Murray made her motion picture debut in the Lasky production "To Have and to Hold" before that company merged with the Famous Players company. After the merger, this dramatic story was found for Miss Murray but the fact that it required bonafide New York settings for the larger portion of the play prompted the sending of Miss Murray from Hollywood, Cal., to the Famous Players studio in New York. Here she came under the direction of John B. O'Brien, who has been directing Mary Pickford and Louise Huff for the Famous Players.

With all New York on which to draw for his settings, O'Brien has been able to choose many interesting locations as a background for Miss Murray's clever acting. The story deals with the under-world element of society in its conflict with the other half which does not know—or care—how it lives. In the role of Betty, Miss Murray plays a girl of the submerged stratum who is perfectly honest and upright but whose poverty has entangled her with a set of gangsters. Over her they continually hold the terror of taking from her little Jimmy, her small brother, who has been left in her sole care by death of their parents.

By constant terrorization, "Nifty" Mendez, a stool pigeon, succeeds in forcing Betty to act, but the girl, instead of giving herself up to him as he demands, takes little Jimmy and runs away. While they are traveling along the road, an automobile strikes the boy, breaking his leg. Rodney Channing, the owner of the car, takes both Betty and the injured boy to his home and there the acquaintance of Betty and Channing begins.

They become more and more interested in each other until finally they are engaged. The printing of the announcement, however, gives "Nifty" a clue and Betty finds herself face to face with her old enemy. There is another man who has made a great sacrifice for Betty. He is Joe Kelly, whom "Nifty" succeeded in having imprisoned when he interfered in Betty's behalf against the stool pigeon's plans. Joe plays an important part in the later developments of this tensely interesting drama.

In support of Miss Murray are Harry C. Browne, Ida Darling, Tammany Young and J. Albert Hall.

Certain Cure for Croup.

Mrs. Rose Middleton, of Greenville, Ill., has had experience in the treatment of this disease. She says, "When my children were small my son had croup frequently. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always broke up these attacks immediately, and I was never without it in the house. I have taken it myself for coughs and colds with good results."—Adv.

What Use Are Kings?

A Kentucky orator is quoted as demanding "Of what use are kings?" A Kentuckian, of all men, ought to know that kings are of some use, if you can get as many as three of them.—Nashville Tennessean.

Mrs. P. O. Stuchell Tells How She Cured Her Son of a Cold.

"When my son Ellis was sick with a cold last winter I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It helped him at once and quickly broke up his cold," writes Mrs. P. O. Stuchell, Homer City, Pa. This remedy has been in use for many years. Its good qualities have been fully proven by many thousands of people. It is pleasant and safe to take.—Adv.

SHERRY'S

Strong Cast Supports Viola Dana in "The Light of Happiness" Viola Dana, the youngest legitimate star in motion pictures, and one of the most capable artists now appearing on the screen, will be seen here at Sherry's tonight, last showing in "The Light of Happiness," a five-part Metro wonderplay, produced by the Columbia Pictures corporation. This delightful comedy-drama was written especially for Miss Dana by John H. Collins, who also directed the screen production. In the cast with Miss Dana are Edward Earle, Lorraine Frost, Harry Linson, Jack Busby, Mona Kingsley and Robert Walker. Miss Dana was last seen on the Metro program in "The Flower of No Man's Land." Miss Dana has a large following among theatergoers who remember her finished work as the star in "The Poor Little Rich Girl," which enjoyed a long Broadway run when Miss Dana was but twelve years old.

An Old Man's Stomach.

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain pepsin but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.—Adv.
