PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe, county school superintendent, has gone to California to visit her son.

Mrs. L. D. Howland and children have gone to Walla Walla to visit relatives and may later go on to Montana where Mr. Howland's mother resides. In the meantime Mr. Howland will remain in the employ of the O.-W., being now at Meacham.

Henry (Heinie) Roscamp returned Sunday morning from Portland where he spent a day on business. While there his father-in-law was taken suddenly ill with hemorrhages but was slightly improved when Mr. Roscamp left for La Grande.

A. T. Hill was a spectator at the Oregon-W. S. C. game Saturday and pronounces it one of the best he has ever seen. He, like other La Grande followers of the sport, was gratified to see Ken Bartlett get away for a long run.

Rev. Chandler, of Elgin, who preached at Haines yesterday, was in La Grande this morning en route home. He said it was 10 below in Haines this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cooper and daughter, who made their home in La Grande a number of years while Mr. Cooper was engaged in the barber profession here, were over Sunday guests with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Desilet, while en route home from Michigan to Seattle. They traveled through warm weather in Illinois and then hit blizzard temperature in Montana and Wyoming.

Mrs. Ed Cross, of La Grande, district manager for the Knights and Ladies of Security, is now here and will remain for some time building up the local membership. She is to meet with the Pendleton organization next week.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

Miss Grace Childers is reported to be in about the same condition today as last week. She is suffering from blood poison, an infection following a slight injury to one hand. Her condition has been quite serious for several days.

Mrs. H. S. Brownton and children spent the past week-end in Baker, returning home this morning.

"Preacher" Jones, make-up man, and Roy McNees, ad man, on the Pendleton Tribune, spent Sunday with Fritz Miltenberger. They came over to remain between trains.

Harley Richardson was an over-Sunday visitor with his parents in Pendleton yesterday, returning today noon.

Drug Habit Increases.

New York, Nov. 13.—(Special)—The prevalence of the "drug habit" in New York has been brought to prominent notice in reason of a test case in a New York court, seeking to set aside the existing law with reference to the use of habit-forming drugs on the claim that the law is unconstitutional. In questioning the legality of the act it was contended that it deprived persons of property without due process, the majority of convictions being based upon police confiscations of the drugs. The Justice before whom the case was tried, threw considerable light on the matter. He declared:

"Within the last decade a situation has risen with respect to habit-forming drugs which threatens to become a real menace to the peace of the community and daily is sending many men and women to ruin."

The court referred to the fact that has been established in criminal practice, that persons under the influence of cocaine, morphine, or heroin, lose all moral sense, and are without physical fear. Quite naturally they become a real peril to society.

The extent of the prevalence of the drug habit can hardly be measured, as the victims practice it with great secrecy. Nevertheless it is so common that in New York it has been necessary to organize a special squad of police, which devotes all its time to the drug users and sellers. Further than this, the municipal authorities have found it necessary to purchase and maintain a large farm colony to which victims may be sent for treatment. The New York courts have declared that the attempt of the legislature of the state to eliminate and control the use of drug for medicinal purposes is a proper exercise of police power. The trial judge commented:

"In such a cosmopolitan population as now characterizes many of our greater cities, new and complex problems present themselves from time to time in connection with the maintenance of order. The use of habit-forming drugs is one of these problems."

Shakespeare Garden in Danger.

The Shakespeare Garden in Central Park has taken a strong hold on the affections and sentiment of New Yorkers, and its threatened destruction has raised a protest that the city authorities are likely to heed. Every flower named in the works of the illustrious Shakespeare is to be found in the little nondescript garden that clings to the rocks of the hillside, toward which tens of thousands of city dwellers bend their way in order that their hungry gaze may rest on the beautiful profusion of horticulture. Several local organizations, including the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, the Shakespearean Society and the Boy Scouts, have made an organized attempt to save the garden. It is a small affair but remarkable because of its interesting situation and further because of the care with which its flowery expanse has been planned and kept. The delight of the people who visit the garden in uncounted numbers goes straight to one's heart.

Woman Sent to Congress.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 13.—(Special)—That Miss Jeanette Rankin, of Montana, will become the first woman to sit as a member of either house of congress seems assured as late returns from the outlying districts are received. With a tenth of the state unreported early today Miss Rankin's lead was close to 3,000 and this she is likely to retain. Miss Rankin is a Republican and ran on a dry platform. Her strength was in the rural districts and as the precincts to be heard from are in the far eastern and for western parts of the state it is believed Harry B. Mitchell, Democrat, who is third in the race, will be unable to overcome her lead, though Miss Rankin's election is not conceded.
