Death Calls Volunteer Back.

Fay Vest, son of Mrs. Chas. Vest, returned home Monday from eastern Canada where he had gone as a member of a Canadian contingent of army engineers, says the Joseph Herald. While awaiting transport for the fighting lines in France he received word of the passing of his father, the late Charles Vest, and while unable to secure his discharge in time to be here during the last illness of his father, he lost no time in getting detached and will now remain at home with his mother. Fay is one of the well known young men of Joseph and is a graduate of the local high school.

THE TOGGERY

All Go To The Bottom

Elegant Stock of New Pianos

Take an Awful Tumble.....

F. F. Theroux Will Quit

Easy Payments if You Like

It is a fact that you can purchase a piano now and hardly feel the cost. The man who does not read the advertising of today is doing himself and his family an injustice. You can judge a house by its announcements, especially if you take the trouble to investigate as to their ability and intentions to make good their statements. In our previous advertising we have made a plain, candid statement of facts showing why we are able to offer to the people of La Grande old, reliable makes of pianos. And at prices in many instances almost one-half their real value. Many have visited our sale and found every statement we have made to be true. The pianos we are selling for $165 and $215 are often sold for just twice this amount. The highest priced pianos, of course, are going to be the slowest to sell. We want to call special attention to six beautiful straight pianos—absolutely brand new—the finest selected mahogany burl walnut and golden oak cases. These pianos are from two of America's largest and finest factories and often sell for and considered bargains at $475 to $600 each. They must be sold, and sold quick—$287 takes the plainest cases—$395 the finest selected ones in the lot. There is a fine player piano that is sold regularly in Portland and elsewhere for $600—Priced to sell now for $395, with liberal supply of music free.

Remember Eilers' Music House, with stores all over the west are back of every piano sold. You have the manufacturer's guarantee, besides Eilers' famous guarantee and one year's free trial exchange arrangement.

If you have any earthly use for a piano or intend to buy one within the next year, or two years, come here and look over the instruments.

Do not wait—the store is open evenings.

Telephone or write, if not convenient to call.
