PERSONAL MENTION

Fred G. Taylor, secretary of the Amalgamated Sugar company, with headquarters in Ogden, is a La Grande visitor today. Mr. Taylor was manager of the sugar factory that once operated in La Grande.

Mrs. Cross went to Pendleton today to pay an official visit to the Knights and Ladies of Security council there. She reports that the national officers of the order will be in Portland in two weeks and that a class of two hundred will be taken in at that time.

Hugh T. Kinn, stenographer at the land office, left today for Hanford, near Kennewick, to visit relatives. He was accompanied by his daughter Ruth.

J. A. Horan, a Joseph meat merchant, returned home today after looking after business interests in La Grande for a day or two. Mr. Horan is of that type which smiles with a broad smile over the outcome of the presidential election. In other words, he is not a Republican.

P. A. Anderson, a former abstractor of La Grande more recently located at Harper near Vale, was a business visitor in the city yesterday and last night.

Mrs. F. B. Currey has been advised that her brother, F. A. Benson of San Jose, has been re-elected state senator for his district.

Phil S. Bates, secretary of the Oregon Editorial association and secretary of the Oregon Publishers association,

Dont You Want to Begin the Winter With A New Heating Stove?

It would be a particularly delightful change if it happens that you are using an old heater that for one reason or another does not give satisfaction.

Buy a Neverfail and you'll have no more stove troubles, for it is one of the highest grade stoves on the market and its price is far from being exorbitant, in fact, at these prices you are assured a wonderful value. We have many attractive styles to show you—some for wood only, others combination wood and coal. In both the fuel consuming is exceptionally low.

Come to the hardware section and see them before you invest your money in a new stove.

And Overdue Notes.

The train was late, even later than is usual on a Boston and Maine leased line, and as they crawled through on station a weary traveler was heard to exclaim:

"What a villainous station this is! They try to irritate one on purpose. Look at those girls in the refreshment room. Why do they dress them all in black?"

"Don't you know?" said a fellow passenger, in a most solemn tone of voice, and with a look of awe on his face.

"No," replied the curious and fretful traveler.

"Why," said the other, "because they are in mourning for the late trains."—Philadelphia Ledger.
