WIT AND HUMOR

Stood the Shock.

Broadway is laughing at the best story of the week, credited to Ernest Rowan, actor and Teuton. A gentleman of a very excitable and emotional nature had the misfortune to lose his third wife. He took the affliction very much to heart and at the grave was so overcome that he fainted. His friends gathered around him and were fearful for his life. Among them was a German who spoke English brokenly. He stepped down and felt the gentleman's pulse and looking up said, "He's all right, he'll revive."

A Moral.

A visitor to a Sunday school was asked to address a few remarks to the children. He took the familiar theme of the children who mocked Elisha on his journey to Bethel—how the young ones taunted the prophet, and how they were punished when two she bears came out of the wood and ate forty-and-two of them. "And now, children," said he,

"what does this story show?"

"Please, sir," came from a little girl in the front row, "it shows how many children two she bears can hold!"

Tremendous Drive on Foot Guards.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 22.—(United Press)—Manitoba women this week shipped Canadian soldiers at the front 16,000 pairs of socks.

David Garrick, well known ball player, lately of Enterprise, has gone to Salt Lake City, intending to make that city his future home. His wife preceded him several weeks.

Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

Royal Baking Powder contains no alum nor phosphate.
