Nockabout Overcoat

NO longer necessary to buy two overcoats—one for business and rough wear, and the other for formal and social events.

The Nockabout Overcoat more than takes the place of both coats and serves its purpose better—made of heavy overcoatings and in a variety of weaves, colors and fabrics that possess all the style, character and expression of the prevailing overcoat models.

By leaving out the linings, which are unnecessary—the Nockabout is stripped of some of its cost, but not of its comfort or warmth, style or service.

As an overcoat for cold and stormy days it can not be beaten and it is equally appropriate at the club, theater, the dance or social function. Low in cost, excellent in service, dependable in quality, it offers more in the way of style, service, comfort and convenience than any other garment selling at the same price.
