Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.

How to Prevent Croup. In a child that is subject to attacks of croup, the first indication of the disease is hoarseness. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse and the attack may be warded off and all danger and anxiety avoided. —Adv.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This is not only one of the best and most efficient medicine for coughs, colds and croup, but is also pleasant and safe to take, which is important when medicine must be given to children. Many mothers have given it their unqualified endorsement. —Adv.

RABBIT DRIVE ON SUNDAY

Scarcity of Rabbits Compels Arrangement for Many Hunters.

The annual hassenpfeffer is near at hand. President L. M. Hoyt of the Wing, Fin & Fleetfoot club has called members of the club to join in the big annual rabbit drive next Sunday and the feast will be held the following week some time.

The unusually heavy snowfall last year killed off jacks by the thousands and there is a great scarcity of them this year on the plains of Telocaset. For that reason it is necessary that a big number of hunters go out next Sunday. Further particulars later.

Case of Harvard one of Football's Marvels

By HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent New York, Dec. 6.—Eddie Casey the young backfielder star of Harvard is one of the most remarkable football players of an ago. His weight, 155 pounds, is the only thing that keeps him from being rated on a par with Oliphant of the Army or Harley of Ohio State.

A graduate of Exeter, the school where Tad Jones drilled football players and made them future greats before he took up his duties with Yale, Casey went to Harvard, insisted that he was a football player, and made it stick despite his lightness. Percy Houghton sprung him on Cornell with a surprise that was so sudden Cornell hadn't fully recovered its breath yet. He simply ran amuck.

Against Princeton Casey again did some starring, and he virtually was the entire Harvard backfield in the game with Yale. Given a real good backfield star to help him out, Casey might have kept up that string of victories for the Crimson over the New Haven bulldogs.

Casey isn't of the plunging, smashing type. His lack of weight prevents any such tactics in his play. But he can hit a line, and hit it hard. He is a good ground gainer anywhere. His specialty, however, is the long, swooping end runs, eluding bunches of tacklers, spinning and twisting forward for gains almost unbelievable.

Again Yale Casey showed to excellent advantage when he broke around Harvard's right end, shaking off three tacklers in his sprint, running into another nest after a thirty-yard dash, shaking them off, and continuing seventy yards to a touchdown, which, so far as Casey's work was concerned was legitimate. The thickness of a Harvard lineman who discovered a Yale player in the way and tackled him, alone saved Yale. The officials noticed that tackle, called the ball back, and penalized Harvard fifteen yards for holding.

But always there is a next year to football and next year, it seems, this Casey person will be a force to be reckoned with by Harvard's opponents.

What Was the Matter?

A quiet but sorrowful motorest sat by the side of a car that was drawn up near the pavement. A man in another car, who had passed the disconsolate one that morning slowed up and inquired:

"How long have you been here?"

"Several hours."

"Can't you find out what is the matter? Inlet valve all right?"

The other smiled. "That's all right," he said.

"Trouble with the spark plug?"

"Think not."

"How are the batteries?"

"All right."

"Got plenty of spirit?"

"Yes, plenty."

"Your tires look all right. What is wrong?"

"Oh," replied the waiting motorest, "there's nothing wrong with the car. But ever since 10 o'clock my wife's been in that house. She came to see her sister's first baby."

EVENSONG

The sun has set; the shades of twilight creep

In sodden-grey from ocean's rosy deep;

The purple hills melt into heaven's blue;

The flowered meads are bathed in crystal dew.

The dove of peace broods over land and sea,

And from our hearts the clouds of sorrow flee;

God in His garden walks as eve draws nigh.

And choiring angel-hosts seem hovering by. —Belle Cooper.
