JUDGE FINN'S TRIP

wife's health. "I also visited my brother, who is retired and living at the Beverly Hills Hotel, Los Angeles. "Los Angeles is a wonderful city and now has more population than San Francisco; it is the largest city on the Pacific Coast. I recalled a trip that I made by stage in 1898 from San Jose to San Diego when there were no railroads. Los Angeles was then not over 5000 in population, mostly Mexicans. There were not more than 25 to 50 families of white people. The old town in Los Angeles has vanished, but a part of the old Mexican town of San Diego is still remaining, and at Ramona's wedding place there is preserved Indian relics and paintings and a fine exhibit of curios. "I crossed the Mexican line to Ti Juana, a Mexican city 200 years old, with no marks of progress. There is an old Mexican fort there which an American company could demolish in twenty minutes. I attended the races there and saw some very fine horses. There was a bull fight, but I did not go to see it, having seen one before. "At Pasadena I witnessed the Rose Carnival and it was a very interesting and enjoyable sight. I saw a blue rose for the first time in my life. I also attended the football game and saw the Oregon boys defeat Pennsylvania. I don't go in for football as a rule, but it was a part of the carnival program, and it was a fine opportunity to study mankind en masse. So was the carnival. It was estimated that there were at least 200,000 people at Pasadena during the carnival. "I also visited Luther Burbank's laboratory at Santa Rosa, and saw his spineless cactus, his California Red, which is a cross between the orange and the apple, a sour thing of no commercial value, and his Burbank potato. We raise just as good and better potatoes in the Grande Ronde valley. "My main purpose in going was to see my old friends and to take a vacation, and I had a very enjoyable three weeks' trip.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF MOON

phere around the moon that could reflect the sun's rays and produce a twilight effect, so it is interesting to know that this faint light which shows the moon in the dark shadow of the earth is due to the rays of the sun refracted around the earth by the earth's own atmosphere. This is the same principle which allows us to read after sunset—the refraction of the sun's rays by the atmosphere. If it is clear we can enjoy a fine illustration of these facts for several hours, for the moon will not begin to emerge from the shadow till nearly 2 a. m., and will not wholly leave it till after 3 a. m.

HUMANE SOCIETY DAY IS SET

Baker County Schools to Have Special Exercises

Baker, Or., Jan. 6.—(Special)—A humane society day is the first announced plan, aside from the regular work of the Baker County schools, of the county's first woman school superintendent, Miss Elmette E. Bailey, who took office last Tuesday.

Miss Bailey announced today that in co-operation with the humane society she would have exercises at as many schools as possible two weeks from Friday, to teach the pupils the care of their horses in bad weather. After the exercises, Miss Bailey plans, the pupils will be asked to form local humane society branches in connection with the county society, with headquarters in Baker.

New Railroad Bills.

Washington, Jan. 6.—(Special)—Following a conference with the president yesterday, Chairman Adamson of the house Interstate Commerce Committee, said that within three days he would introduce railroad legislation bills in the house designed to carry out the president's recommendations to congress with one exception.

Instead of the so-called "compulsory arbitration bill," advocated by President Wilson, Chairman Adamson will frame a measure making it illegal for a railroad employe to leave his job on account of a dispute within 60 days of its occurrence. The bill would apply with equal force to the railroads, forbidding them to discharge any men because of a dispute within 60 days of its occurrence.

New Scenery for the Arcade.

The management of the Arcade Theatre has closed a contract with Frederick P. Cobb, scenic artist of Seattle, to paint them a full new set of scenery comprising 41 pieces and also to retouch the old scenery, making it entirely new.

Mr. Cobb is an artist of well known ability. He has been engaged to paint the scenery of the new house to be built in Pendleton and also the new one in Walla Walla. All of the work is to be done in La Grande and the most of the supplies needed will be purchased from the local merchants. Mr. Cobb intends to have some of the scenery ready for use for the Elks' show on the 25th and 26th of this month.

Mr. Cobb's wife and small son will join him here on Sunday.

State Aid Sought.

Portland, Jan. 6.—(Special)—Complete and radical changes must be made in legislation and methods of financing projects before irrigation in Oregon becomes a success. The work is too stupendous for individual undertaking, and must have not only more hearty co-operation on the part of the residents of the state, but financial support from both the state and National governments. A way must be found to encourage the settler and aid him in his efforts to become a successful farmer and producer. Such was the dominant note expressed by speakers at the sessions of the Oregon Irrigation Congress yesterday.

LOAN STOCK DATE IS SET

Farm Bank Subscription Books to Open January 10

Washington, Jan. 6.—(Special) January 10 has been tentatively agreed upon by the Federal Farm Loan Board as the day for opening stock subscription books to the 12 farm loan banks.

Lease Sold for $43,000 Pendleton, Or., Jan 6.—(Special)—For $43,000 the Wilcox & Wright leases and outfit on the Umatilla Indian reservation have been sold to Storie & Ritner, Al Knight, Glen Scott and Lawrence Lieuallen. The deal involves 1500 acres of wheat land, and all the leases are to be transferred with the exception of one quarter section, which is retained by Joe Wright. Mr. Wright also retains an interest in the farming outfit. A thousand acres of crop was sold at a price of $22.50 an acre.

THE CHIMES

Lord, through this hour
Be Thou our guide,
So, by Thy power,
No foot shall slide.

Everyone who has lived within sound of the Bells of Westminster is familiar with the verse given above. The origin of the carillon has never been positively established. Some writers accredit it to a Mr. Crouch, who was a pupil of Dr. Randall, Regius Professor of Music. This, however, is disputed by other writers who accredit it to Dr. Randall's conception of the idea taken from a movement in the fifth bar of the opening of Haendel's Symphony, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." The Chimes were first fitted to the Clock of University church, St. Mary's the Great, in Cambridge, but were not copied until they were reproduced on a very large scale in the Victoria Clock Tower of the Houses of Parliament.

As a home institution serving the people of this locality—enjoying your good will and business favors, we have in the past endeavored to show our appreciation by presenting our patrons with calendars and novelties and otherwise recognizing your co-operation in making this a serviceable and successful banking house.

Years of prosperous banking have been made possible only by your support. We wanted to show our appreciation in a substantial way and have therefore purchased of the manufacturers, the McClintock-Loomis Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, including the exclusive rights for this city, a large handsome clock combined with a set of soft and most beautiful chimes.

At the quarter, half and three-quarter hour, these Chimes will ring out in various musical combinations; at quarter past the hour, four strokes—Westminster; at half past the hour, eight strokes—Reveille; at three-quarters past the hour, twelve strokes—Cathedral peal; and on the hour, sixteen strokes—Westminster, followed by the striking of the full hour, in a clear vibrant tone.

May we hope that the Chimes will mean something to all of our people—that they will have a message for the youngster on his way to school; a thought for the business man who hustles through his day; a solace for the old.

Every day of the week the chimes will be sounding their message—the note of warning spoken in time; the chime of rejoicing; the lament in time of sorrow. This chime will be all things to all men for it is going to belong not to us alone, but to men and women and children of our community.

LA GRANDE NATIONAL BANK, La Grande, Oregon.
