Seat Sale Will Begin at Arcade Thursday

"The Birth of a Nation" Will Be Attraction January 23 and 24—Seats at Night Reserved—No Reserved Seats for Matinees.

Much interest is being shown regarding the coming attraction at the Arcade theatre, "The Birth of a Nation," January 23 and 24. For the benefit of those who wish to take advantage of the advance seat sale the following information is given. The seats for both evening shows will be reserved. The sale will begin on Thursday at 2 o'clock at the Arcade theatre. Any one sending in money orders with a statement of where they want their seats reserved will be carefully taken care of. No seats for the matinees will be reserved.

It Was His Own.

Shirley Brooks, the famous Punch editor, once met Charles Salamar, the composer. On being introduced to Shirley the composer said: "I had often and often seen your face, Mr. Brooks, but I never knew to whom it belonged." "Oh," replied Brooks quickly, "it always belonged to me."

ARCADE

DUSTIN FARNUM IN
"A SON OF ERIN"
AT ARCADE THEATER

Dennis O'Hara (Dustin Farnum) is a poor Irish peasant lad who loves pretty Katie O'Grady (Winifred Kingston). Dennis dreams and longs to go to the land of promise, the United States. He is lured by the extravagant newspaper accounts of police uniform. The plan is made for Katie to come to marry Dennis. But as Katie suspected Dennis O'Hara's next letter says that he is no longer a policeman. He has lost his position through a graft exposure in which though innocent, he is implicated while the "higher up" officials escape. His refusal to betray others is the cause.

His fearless, honest character has made him a power in his district, and the reform leaders enlist him. The grafting political-constructor's daughter is caught in the collapse of the poorly built viaduct and Dennis' warn-

CLEVER ORGANIST TO PLAY HERE.

Leonora Fisher Whipp.

Mrs. Whipp will appear here in joint recital with her husband, Hartridge Whipp, the noted baritone at the Methodist Episcopal Church Tuesday evening, January 30. Clarence Eddy, the greatest living organist, with whom Mrs. Whipp studied in New York City, said during a recent interview: "Mrs. Whipp is one of the best equipped organists that I have ever heard."

Mrs. Whipp is well and favorably known as a church and concert organist, all over the Pacific Northwest. Her appearance in La Grande will be a great treat and one that should not be missed by anyone.

Bernstorff, ranking next to Ambassador Jusserand in the diplomatic corps here, will be the guest of honor. Other Teutonic representatives and neutrals will be guests.

It marks the first appearance of Countess von Bernstorff at a diplomatic dinner in the White House since the war opened. The countess is an American but has been in Europe for two years. She returned to America recently. Tonight she will occupy the position of honor at President Wilson's right, the ambassador sitting at the right of Mrs. Wilson.

Magazine prints an article about her in which the writer says:

"The most impressive piece of work that Mrs. Warren and Miss Koehler have put through is a type hitherto universally conceded to the male of the species. It is a wall five hundred feet long, five feet thick, and from twenty to forty feet high, built of solid masonry, and reaching down to bed-rock alongside an arroyo whose turbulent waters at the rainy season threatened to undermine the business portion of Silver City. Mrs. Warren was the engineer for this monumental piece of masonry. She cut from her own quarries the huge rocks used. She hauled lumber for the scaffolding from her own sawmill. She installed steam derricks, steam shovels and steam pumps. She and Miss Koehler worked superintending relays of Mexicans, fighting the rising water to give the mortar time to dry. There were over three hundred Mexicans on her pay rolls in those days, but only Miss Koehler on the skilled workman list."

Happiness.

They were at a distant resort. "I don't like it here," declared she. "We don't know anybody." "Suits me," asserted he. "We don't owe anybody either." — Kansas City Journal.

COURT JUDGES MUST WORK EIGHT HOURS EACH DAY

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 15.—(United Press)—An eight-hour day order for justices of the state supreme court is being considered today, following an uprising of wheat raisers against market conditions. Justices will be required to keep a log, showing the time spent on every case, and account for very minute of their time for eight hours a day.

how easy it is for a strapping Irish lad to get appointed to the New York police. It is Katie O'Grady, who without his knowing it, by a denying sacrifice, pays for his passage to America.

Arriving in America, he actually does get on the metropolitan police and so writes to Katie. But Katie has been told by American tourists of "faked" costume photos to be obtained at Coney Island, and so does not believe Dennis' photo taken in ing is verified. The reform party wins and Dennis O'Hara, the poor Irish lad is made a captain of police. Katie O'Grady is not told of this and a surprise much beyond her fondest dreams awaits the little immigrant on her arrival in America.

This stirring Paramount picture will be shown at the Arcade for only one day, tomorrow.

REPORT PRINCESS IN INSANE ASYLUM!

CROWN PRINCESS OF SAXONY

The former crown princess of Saxony, it is reported, has been found in a Dresden insane asylum, confined there by the Saxon king. She was practically disinherited when she eloped with Andre Giron, tutor of her five children in 1902. Later she became Countess Montignoso.

THE WHAT-YOU-MAY COLUMN

Calls.

The call is an inquisitive move made by poker players and society women when they want to see what the other fellow's got. In either case it is fatal if the other fellow has nothing.

The call is of infinite variety and many kinds. There is, for instance, the call: Of the Wild; of the unutterable bore; of the loan you can't pay; of the neighborhood tomcats at midnight; of the bill collector; of the boss when you're late.

"Call" is the preacher's way of describing an offer of a better job at more pay. But that's no call. That's a raise.

Teuton Diplomats Will Not Talk War

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—(United Press)—When a group of Teuton diplomats get together these days, there is generally a discussion of the war. Tonight there will be a gathering of them, at which no mention of the conflict will be made.

It is the occasion of the second diplomatic dinner given by President and Mrs. Wilson. Ambassador von

British Want Loan of Quarter Billion

New York, Jan. 16.—(United Press)—Great Britain is expected to ask another $250,000,000 loan from the United States through J. P. Morgan & Co. within the next forty-eight hours.

This will make approximately $800,000,000 England has borrowed in the United States since the war began in 1914. This is expected to be a direct government loan back by British collateral in the United States. The new loan probably will run five years. No objection is expected by Morgan from the federal reserve board so long as the collateral is kept liquid so it can be realized on by the bankers when the money is needed. Great Britain already has $800,000,000 in loans coming due in the United States between 1918 and 1921.

SHERRY'S

"The Bugler of Algiers," to be exhibited in Bluebird photoplays at the Sherry theater today and tomorrow will present Ella Hall, Rupert Julian, Kingsley Benedict and little Zoe Rae in the leading roles. Here is a remarkable photoplay, appealing to loyalty and love of the flag in scenes of inspiring vigor and force. There is combined with this patriotic sentiment a story of great love and human devotion that rings true and will stir the admiration of every beholder. Ella Hall plays the role of a girl, left alone when war calls her brother and her sweetheart to the colors. In all the years that follow, she lives true to her love, even though the report has come that he has been killed in battle. She lives to see her sweetheart decorated with the Legion of Honor, while he represents her brother, who has won this great tribute from his grateful country. The brother has died of exhaustion, maching to be decorated; and then the girl, now grown to old age, goes with the sweetheart of her life to lay upon the breast of the dead hero the tribute that came to him too late. Beautifully told, beautifully pictured and superbly acted, "The Bugler of Algiers" marks an epoch even among Bluebirds.

Charity Ball Tickets.

The ladies of the Charity Ball Committee wish to announce that the tickets are $1.00, extra ladies 50c and spectators in balcony 25c.

The ladies will serve punch during the evening free of charge, and they will also serve coffee, sandwiches and pickles for 15c.
