Enterprise Coasters Injured Friday Night

Enterprise, Ore., Jan. 22—(Special)—Three Enterprise teachers, members of a coasting party, were injured Friday evening in a coasting accident here. The three, C. Parcell and Miss Mabel Shutt and Laura Murray, were on a bobbed sled as they attempted to dodge one sled, collided with another. The small bones of Mr. Parcell's right foot were broken and the women were severely bruised. Miss Murray was unconscious for several hours.

Shooting a Fish.

A fact known by every one is the peculiar apparent bending of a stick when thrust into clear water. It is due to the refraction or bending of light. Now, if one saw a fish in fresh water and desired to shoot it the gun must be pointed under the fish, for it must be remembered that the fish appears as did the submerged end of the stick—too far up. If the fish was directly under the observer, however, the light would not be bent, and it could be shot straight at.

ARC A DE

"Years of the Locust" at Arcade.

Fannie Ward, the brilliant Lasky star, who has achieved such a remarkable success in the photodramatic field, is to be seen at the Arcade today only in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Years of the Locust," adapted by Harvey F. Thew from the story by Albert Payson Terhune. The story of this thrilling drama has to do with a young woman who was unfortunately wedded to a swindformer husband was Joe Lewis, a South African diamond king, and in the wedding for the photodrama, she wears the same gown and veil which she wore in real life when she was the most sought after actress in English society. Her wedding with the diamond king was one of the social sensations of that season. "The Years of the Locust" gives Miss Ward an opportunity to display many of her latest costumes and gowns and she runs the gamut of feminine adornment during the many unusual scenes of this photodrama, from morning negligee to ball gown, with even the latest mode of London riding habit thrown in, for good meas-ling stock broker. How his ruin is accomplished, how to escape the law he is supposed to have committed suicide, and how his wife is married to the man whom she really loves, only to have her first husband appear on the scene, is brought about in a series of unusual scenes, which swiftly take the audience from the drawing rooms in fashionable New York homes, to the dirt and heat of a South African diamond mine. The story contains a remarkable coincidence, of dramatic and human interest, in the fact that Miss Ward's and the charming star's opportunity to display some of the wardrobe for which she is so famous, is one of the chief attractions of the photodrama. Included in the cast are Jack Dean, the distinguished actor, Walter Long, who has appeared in a number of Lasky productions, Chas. Ogle and a number of other members of the all-star organization. The play was made for the Lasky company under the direction of George H. Melford, and abounds in beautiful settings and excellent photography. It is a Paramount picture.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION" —THE ARCADE GETS IT

The KuKlux Klan's warning to intended victims was three dried peas. Singular, but the order itself was singular and did nothing after conventional lines. These would be sent the marked man at intervals and no word to accompany them. If he were residing in the south during those troublous days, he would know the significance of those mysterious, but seemingly harmless peas and if he were guilty of a misdeed against either the cause of the south, and of its traditions or the silent, deadly band who thus remembered him, his days were surely numbered and there was no escape from their vengeance but by death at his own hand—and seldom was there that.

One dared not breathe the name of the organization for fear his nearest neighbor might belong to it and many a man suddenly disappeared because of unguardedly making a careless remark about the Ku Klux Klan. When first hastily gotten together, it is said, these modern knights enrolled the best and noblest blood in the old south, but after their specific mission was completed and a stable law regulated the rights of the southern people, their services were no longer required and they disbanded, when the hoodlums and desperate characters of the land took up the order and used it to cover their own deeds, thus bringing down upon the name of the "Clausmen" the odious reputation they have ever since borne. Many blood curdling tales were told of their doing and secret and deadly workings. The rides and reneues of the Ku Klux so graphically, dramatically set forth in "The Birth of a Nation" are those of the original, right-enforcing organization of true sons of the old south. See and hear the production and orchestra, when it appears here on January 23rd for two days, with a matinee daily at 2 o'clock. Matinee prices are 25c and 50c. Night prices are 75c and $1. Seats are now selling for both nights at the Arcade.

Enterprise Reports Two Big Wheat Sales

L. W. and C. A. Riley and C. P. Ragsdale Sell 37,000 Bushels for $57,000 This Week.

Enterprise, Ore., Jan. 22.—The Enterprise Record-Chieftain says: Two wheat sales were made in Enterprise Tuesday at figures that probably are a record for Wallowa county. In the two, 37,000 bushels of grain were disposed of, at an aggregate price of more than $57,000. The larger lot of the two was that of L. W. Riley and son, C. A. Riley. They sold 26,000 bushels, and the check they received from Kerr, Gifford & Co. is said to be the largest single check that concern has paid for one purchase of grain in the county. The sellers, now in the Enterprise Grain company, have been buying wheat through the fall, selling now and then, but always accumulating a large and larger store. This week they concluded the price had reached a figure where they could not afford to take further chances and so they let loose.

The other lot was the 11,500 bushels sold by C. P. Ragsdale to the same house for $155.

Long Felt Want.

"Sit down, Mr. Stylo," said the eminent publisher to the tattered scarecrow who had just entered his elaborate sanctum. "I have read your manuscript, and I think I shall publish it." "Ah!" cried the starving genius. "Do you really mean that?" "Yes. It seems to me a good book, and I think it will fill a long felt want." "I'm glad to hear you say that. And, by the way, could you advance me $2.50 on account of my royalties?" "Oh, I think so—I think so! But why do you want $2.50?" "I want to begin filling that long felt want you spoke of."—New York Globe.

Soon Over His Cold.

Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. George Lewis, Pittsfield N. Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with a cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him much good until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."

Wrong Ideas of What Constitutes Rest Cause of Monday Indisposition

By Dr. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Health Commissioner of Pennsylvania

Is it a habit of yours to get out of bed on the wrong foot on Monday morning? Do you start for the office with a frown on your face and a look in your eye that sets the office boy hunting for an errand outside and starts the whole force with a groan that lasts for the better part of the day?

With many people it is not because their daily tasks are distasteful or that their real attitude toward their associates is aggressive; it is more a MATTER OF RATHER ILL CONCEIVED IDEAS OF WHAT CONSTITUTES REST OR DIVERSION.

It isn't possible in a few words to describe the Saturday until Monday habits of every one. The majority of people, however, are very apt to fall into two general divisions. One class tries to crowd too much into the time between one week's end and the beginning of the next week's labor and take up their business on Monday morning exhausted and overtired instead of refreshed by the "day of rest."

THE OTHER CLASS GOES TO EXTREMES BY OVEREATING AND UNDEREXERCISING AND THE RESULT IS EQUALLY UNHAPPY.

HOUSING POULTRY.

Enough Space Should Be Provided to Allow Birds Free Exercise.

Now that winter is at hand and the fowls must be more or less housed the question is again and again asked, "How much room should be allowed for my flock?" The answer, in a general way, is that there should be room enough freely given to enable the flock to exercise themselves and so keep in healthy condition.

For floor space they must have room to move about without getting at all close together, and for ceiling space they must have plenty of ventilation. But a great deal will depend upon the nature of the breed of birds kept. And that does not mean that the bigger fowls demand the bigger space (except in proportion), but that the more active the breed the more room it will require per bird.

For example, the restless, active little Leghorns cannot stand the confinement and closeness that might satisfy the Cochins. Three acres of land for about a thousand birds are as little as one should ever consider; five acres are much better. As a principle the more space the better the outlook for successful poultry.

Grapefruit in China.

A number of varieties of the pomelo, or grapefruit, grow in China, all differing more or less from the American fruit. All have somewhat of the bitter taste which makes our pomelos so appetizing.

"The Sunbeam" Is a Love Story That Lingers in the Heart.

A love story that lingers in the heart, is "The Sunbeam," the great Metro-Rolle production with Mabel Taliaferro as the star, which will be seen at the Sherry theatre here the

him. It was pictured by June Mathis, one of the greatest of scenario writers.

No production could bring out the wonderful artistic ability of Miss Taliaferro stronger than does "The Sunbeam." As a sweet, pure generous-hearted working girl of the tenements of New York City, the part of Prue Mason, taken by Miss Taliaferro, calls for emotional acting of a delicate and subdued type at one time, and extreme vivaciousness at the next. These varying degrees of her art Miss Taliaferro brings out with tremendous ef-

Supporting the star are such noted actors as Raymond McKee, Gerald Griffin, David Thompson, Helen Alexandria and Lillian Shaffner, and Mrs. Breyer. Mr. Griffin, in the part of Stephen Rutherford, a wealthy candy manufacturer, displays all his remarkable ability as a character actor.
