C. C. Hamilton Will Address C. E. Tonight

C. C. Hamilton, first speaker to come to La Grande to prepare for the Christian Endeavor convention February 16, 17 and 18, will be in the city tonight to speak in the main auditorium of the Presbyterian church, beginning at 7:30. The talk will be followed by an informal social and get-acquainted party in the Sunday school room. Mr. Hamilton is primarily a field-worker for the C. E. World, the official organ of the C. E. society. However his work is not limited to this for he is a Christian Endeavor convention booster.

La Bean Funeral Held Tomorrow. The funeral of Mrs. May La Bean, wife of John La Bean, will be held from the Roman Catholic church tomorrow morning. Mrs. La Bean died yesterday noon in the Grande Ronde hospital and the body was taken to the Henry undertaking parlor. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery. The La Beans have lived here for the past ten years.

Second Lecture Tomorrow Night. The second practical lecture to be given under the auspices of the senior gymnasium class of the Y. M. C. A. will be given tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A. building. Dr. H. L. Underwood will lecture. He has prepared something of interest for the boys. The talk will start at 8.

Overhauling "Y" Swimming Tank. The Y. M. C. A. will have a completely overhauled swimming pool and dormitory shower bath room soon. F. E. Oxner is doing the work. The bath room has received two coats of San-A-Cote and a coat of enamel and is a very clean and attractive room. The swimming pool is being scraped this morning of all loose particles of enamel and before the work of the pool is completed, the ceiling and the upper part of the side walls of the room will be sized and wiewashed. The lower part of the walls and the floor will then receive two coats of San-A-Cote.

The First Wheels. Although it seems difficult to realize a world without wheels, these useful spheres, which have now become necessities, were not used in England until comparatively recent times. It was not till the year 1508 that the very first carriage with wheels attached was made. This was built for and by the orders of Queen Elizabeth. The first public conveyance that plied for hire as a cab was not in use until 1625, while the ancestor of our dear old horse buses, the stagecoach, did not arrive on the streets till 1659. Who can tell how many years it will be before we can dispense with wheels altogether?—London Mail.

Clay Eaters in Africa. In the colony of upper Senegal and Niger, near a place named Diekuy, exists an edible clay of which the natives are very fond. It is found in a layer between strata of limestone, and a gallery has been driven into the earth for the extraction of the substance. It is not only eaten on the spot, but, broken into pieces a few inches across, is sold to the inhabitants of the surrounding country over a radius of some twenty miles. It is said by French explorers that some natives consume several pounds of this strange food every day. A similar custom is found in the Sudan and in other parts of Africa.—Youth's Companion.

"Open Shop" Still Perplexes Portland

Portland, Ore., Jan. 22—(Special)—Chamber of Commerce members at their regular noon luncheon today discussed the anti-picketing bill now pending before the state legislature. The debate was entitled: "The Banner Boycott Picket vs. the Right of a Workingman to Support His Family Unmolested." William F. Woodward and B. C. Ball, president of the Willamette Iron & Steel company, were the speakers.

David S. Rose, former mayor of Milwaukee, spoke on the vast possibilities for ocean trade development through the Columbia river. He said he believed there was a great future for the trade of Oregon and Washington via the Columbia to the Orient, and through the Panama canal to Europe.

Article Praises Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe.

In a special article yesterday dealing with the women county school superintendents of the state, Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe is spoken of as follows by the Oregon Journal:

Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe of Union county, reelected last fall, was the first woman to hold the office of county superintendent in the state. Mrs. Ivanhoe used to be an easterner, but that was long ago. She came from Woodrow Wilson's state, getting her education at the Salem, N. J., high school and the state normal at Trenton. She taught school in New Jersey for nine years and then after her marriage came to Oregon, settling at Joseph, then 75 miles from a railroad.

"I have experienced all the hardships of a pioneer life," says Mrs. Ivanhoe. "My furniture was made at a sawmill and limited to a few articles. Dry goods boxes were made to serve as dressers and cupboards, and we dined on homely fare and all that."

When Mrs. Ivanhoe's children entered the public school, she again took up teaching, giving service in the La Grande, Pendleton and Enterprise schools, and for one year in the Weston normal.

Christmas Casserole.

For some mysterious reason the chubby earthenware casserole, so dear to the heart of every thrifty French housewife, is a cooking utensil practically unknown in the majority of kitchens on this side of the water. To the average American housekeeper the restaurant term "en casserole" seems necessarily to imply some elaborate concoction of game, sweetbreads or other equally expensive food, and to view the casserole in the light of an everyday household friend and helper is an idea that apparently has never occurred to her.

Yet casserole cookery is among the best, as it may be the cheapest, of cookery methods.

As a gift one of these low earthenware utensils may be very acceptable, though hardly so to an elderly housewife who is "set in her ways." While cheap sorts may be had, there are silver mounted ones in the jewelry stores. Try one for your holiday suppers.

Colonization Plan.

Carrying out the idea suggested by the secretary of the National Forward to the Land league, business men of Savannah, Ga., have started on a practical plan for the colonization of 3,000 acres of desirable farm land in Chatham county, Ga., says the Town Development Magazine. It is expected to locate fifty families on this tract early next year. Present indications are that these families will be selected from European immigrants. The colonists will take with them their own pastor and religious creed. A feature of the plan is the establishment of a model school and the employment of an agricultural expert to direct and assist the colonists in their work. The school will be identified with the extension work of the State university.

Corrosion of Tin.

The popular idea that only acid substances attack tin is wrong. Fish, asparagus, beans, pumpkins and spinach are not acid, yet their corrosion of tin is quite marked. This is probably due to amino compounds, substances related to ammonia. So alkaline is the methyamine contained in shrimps that workmen in the canneries find the skin peeling off their hands. Shrewd observation by some canners led to the discovery that if shrimps were fed for a day before canning the corrosive action of the juices were greatly diminished. This is now the universal practice. In addition the cans are lined with paper to prevent the contact of the shrimps and the tin.

Knowing Him Like a Book.

"He has a title!" remarked Miss Cayenne inquiringly. "Yes," replied the young woman. "Have you learned all about his personal history?" "I don't think I have." "Well, I should advise you to do so. In my reading I have found that a very charming title may go with a highly unsatisfactory story."—Washington Star. "I was not always this way, mum. I used to go to banquets." "And bad ways brought you low. You find things different now, eh?" "Not so very. I had to listen to a lot of talk then to pay for my food. Only difference is I got the chin before I got de eats now."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Lack of Sleep Responsible For Many of Mankind's Ills

By Dr. RICHARD C. CABOT, Boston Physician

THE largest amount of sleep we can get is the amount we need. When we are glad to get up in the morning we know that we have had enough sleep, but when we are ready to take a few more winks we realize that our PERIOD OF REST IS TOO SHORT TO REPAIR THE BROKEN DOWN TISSUES OF THE MIND AND BODY.

Most of the dyspepsia, indigestion, pains, aches and other ills are directly traceable to a lack of the proper amount of sleep.

IF WE FIND WE ARE CROSS, TIRED, ACHING OR IRRITABLE AFTER AN EIGHT HOUR SLEEP, INCREASE THE AMOUNT TO EIGHT AND ONE-HALF OR NINE HOURS OR MORE, UNTIL WE HAVE SOLVED THE INDIVIDUAL PROBLEM.

Banish unwarranted fears if we wish to enjoy a sound night's sleep. The four fears that most people lose sleep worrying over are heart trouble, lung trouble, cancer and insanity, and, curiously enough, those who worry over these diseases are afflicted by them only in imagination.
