

Smile! and the World Smiles With You!

An Old Saying That Has Been Proved by Every One of These Triangle Stars

They Are: Upper Row, Louise Fazenda, Bessie Love, Seena Owen; Lower Row, Alice Lake, Dorothy Dalton, Clara Williams.

There's a reason for every smile in the picture. Louise Fazenda has just signed a new Keystone contract. Bessie Love has heard that folks like her newest play, "The Heiress at Coffee Dan's." Seena Owen—well, Seena just smiles all day long. She's Mrs. George Walsh off the screen, and there's a very recent little addition to the Walsh family that would make any mother proud and happy. Alice Lake is getting some roles in Triangle comedies that would please an even more aspiring young comedienne than she. Dorothy Dalton and Clara Williams have been picked out by Thomas H. Ince for stellar roles in some of the biggest plays that will be produced under his supervision during the year to come. So, as anybody can see, they are six very happy girls, and young Mr. 1917 looks good to them as they welcome him to an open page in their books of achievement.

Have You Sealing Wax, My Dear? Use It

All the Girls Are Waxing Most Enthusiastic Over Waxing Their Billets.

BY MARGARET MEEHAN
(Written for the United Press)
Dame Fashion's latest fad's a seal; Not one that's in the Zoo, Or found around the frozen North, But on each billet doux. No matter if it's writ to Tom Or Dick or Billy, who Receives it first must break the seal That's monogrammed with you.

New York, Jan. 29.—All the girls are waxing most enthusiastic over sealing wax. Even the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, aside from their first natural surprise at having their bills paid at all, are doubly stunned at receiving their checks in envelopes dashing with monogrammed splashes of vivid wax.

You see, the dear girls are practicing on everybody just to perfect their art of making a good impression.

Naturally by the time they write to Percy or Harold they want to make a perfectly stunning impression and only practice makes perfect as the copy books tell us.

Since, paradoxically in fashion, it is always the oldest that is the newest, at the present moment it is no wonder that the gentle art of sealing correspondence has returned to stick. Cleopatra used to finish off her long papyrus rolls of love talk to Marc Antony with a gob of hot sealing wax duly stamped with her royal scarab seal. I have no doubt but that Eve herself scratched little stone billet doux to Adam when he was away for a week end and finished them up with a flourish of red clay on which was stamped her mark, carved on the tooth of a dinosaur.

Great seals of state, government seals, royal seals and pontifical seals have always been the last word as 'twere, so what more fitting than that the last word of Fashion be a seal also.

With the lovely new paper embossed with a monogram or crest in a contrasting or darker tone in the upper left corner it is a last artistic touch to seal the envelopes, lined with the same color as the embossing, with the same shade of sealing wax in which the imprint of the smart crest or monogram is set.

Buff colored paper, monogrammed, envelope lined, and sealed in golden brown is a favorite color scheme, as is pearl grey combined either with a darker grey, silver or purple. An attractive Wedgewood effect is obtained with blue paper bordered in a tiny line of white with a white monogram and sealed with white wax. Lettuce green paper combined with the white in the same manner is also charming and refreshing although apt to have a cooling effect even on an ardent swain.

Of course the perfection of the color scheme is further carried out by having the tapers where one melts the wax partake of the same chosen hue and the quill pen wherewith one writes must also perforce be colored likewise. Really the only blow to the color scheme is handed out heartlessly by the United States of America.

It is indeed very inconsiderate of the government not to have different toned stamps to fit in with the color scheme of one's stationery. Fancy having to suffer the clash of a red two-cent stamp, a jarring note to mar the perfect symphony of your grey and purple notes.

The soul of the artistic letter writer must write the indeed to set a red stamp in the margin of a Wedgewood envelope. Really the only way out is to be extravagant and use five-cent stamps on the blue notes and a collection of one-cent one's on lettuce effects.

Lovers ought to welcome the return of the sealing wax and the seal with particular avidity. The state of the seal will so quickly indicate to their palpitating hearts just what to expect from the inside of the envelope. If the note be full of ardent and flaming words and passionate burning phrases the wax seal will be in a melted gooey state. If on the other hand the tone of the letter be cold and cruel and scornful the wax seal will proclaim its crest or monogram in frigid perfection.

WHAT IS PATRIOTISM? TO BE DISCUSSED BY FAMOUS MEN

Washington, Jan. 29.—(United Press)—Famous men and women Americans gathered here from all parts of the United States to discuss: "What is Patriotism?" Included in the list are such personages as Elihu Root, Former War Secretary Stimson, Rear Admiral Fiske, Theodore Roosevelt, Medill McCormick, Mayor Mitchell, Alton B. Parker, Howard E. Coffin, Samuel Gompers, William Roscoe Thayer, Hermann Hagedorn, Senator Borah, Prof. Edward A. Steiner and others.

This meeting is called The Congress of Constructive Patriotism, is under the auspices of the National Security League and is aimed to better military, naval and industrial preparedness in the United States. There are seventy-three delegates from New York City alone.

The subject is to be discussed in a non-partisan, non-political spirit. Women are to take an important part in the discussion. There are expected to be about 1,000 delegates present.

"The object," said S. Stanwood Menken, chairman of the league's committee on Congress, today, "is to establish a lecture system by experts who will take up the matter of preparedness at points throughout the country in a non-partisan, non-political way. Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard has this branch of the work in charge."

The well known men and women citizens present today are expected to give their personal definitions of what patriotism really is.

Consideration

Because he was a friend in need To earth's down-trodden brotherhood Because he recognized no creed

In his attempt to do some good; Because his every thought and word And act disclosed to all his clan That he, by noble motives stirred,

Was one who loved his fellow man— God would not let pain rack his breast When his soul struggled to be free, But, folding his worn hands in rest, He sent Death for him quietly.

—Ralph M. Thompson, in The Christian Herald.

Are Your Sewers Clogged?

The bowels are the sewerage system of the body. You can well imagine the result when they are stopped up as is the case in constipation. As a purgative you will find Chamberlain's Tablets excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action. They also improve the digestion.

Greatest Department Store in Asia
Across from the fish market, and untouched by the piscatorial scent which pervades it, rises the modern building of the Mitsukoshi department store. If I could describe it in some vague, impersonal way, I would do it; but this modern store is so different from anything else in Japan, that any one would know the store I described. But the Mitsukoshi store is worthy of description, even if some enthusiastic reader should use this article as a guide to shopping in Tokyo. The big sight of the store to me is the spotless matting that covers every floor. The floor is never trodden by the filthy shoe of out-doors. The Japanese put on light slippers and remove their geta or clogs and the foreigners have foot coverings put on over their shoes, just as though they were visiting the Mosque of Omar or Saladin's tomb. From the roof one can see the great city spread out on all sides and a constant stream of visitors use the rapid elevators that carry them to the sixth floor. In the roof garden, where a fountain plays and an orchestra tries to, where there is an Inari shrine and an American soda fountain one can sit and listen to the band and eat ice cream that is fairly good or drink soda water that reminds you of Socrates, Cleopatra and Lucretia Borgia. A conservatory attracts many who buy the seeds and potted plants, and there is a ceremonial tea room where notable guests are entertained. You can have a good photograph taken in the sky-high gallery and get the pictures an hour later, when you have finished the tour of the store. Like the raw materials in a modern factory we were lifted to the top by an elevator and descended by gravity. On the fifth floor some kind of an art exhibit is always in progress. Mail chutes convey the letters from the offices to the big box on the ground floor. Toys in the thousand bright colors of Japan make the next floor a Lilliputian Paradise, and there is a big restaurant. Some rooms are fitted up as models in the Japanese style and some in the foreign style, which doubles the expenses of the man who would be cosmopolitan in his tastes. —Maynard Owen Williams, in The Christian Herald.

Inactivity Causes Constipation.

Lack of exercise in the winter is a frequent cause of constipation. You feel heavy, dull and listless, your complexion is sallow and pimply, and energy at low ebb. Clean up this condition at once with Dr. King's New Life Pills, a mild laxative that relieves the congested intestines without griping. A dose before retiring will assure you a full and easy movement in the morning; 25c a four druggist.

A Simple Transposition

Little four-year-old Bessie was putting on her shoes for the first time and got them exchanged.

Going to her mother, she said triumphantly, "See mamma, I got my shoes on."

"Oh!" said Mamma, "but you have them on the wrong feet."

Bessie looked down doubtfully and said, "I don't see how that can be. These are all the feet I got." —The Christian Herald.

Prefers Chamberlain's.

"In the course of a conversation with Chamberlain Medicine Co.'s representative today, we had occasion to discuss in a general way the merits of their different preparations. At his suggestion I take pleasure in expressing my estimation of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have a family of six children and have used this remedy in my home for years. I consider it the only cough remedy on the market, as I have tried nearly all kinds." —Earl C. Ross, Publisher Hamilton County Republican-News, Syracuse, Kan.

The River and the Tree

"You are white and tall and swaying," sang the river to the tree, "And your leaves are touched with silver—but you never smile on me; For your branches murmur love songs to the sun-kissed turquoise sky, And you seem so far above me that I always hurry by!"

"You are laughing in your shallows, you somber in your deeps, And below your shining surface there's a heart that never sleeps; But all day you pass me dancing, and at evening time you dream, And I didn't think you like me," sang the birch-tree to the stream.

So they got a bit acquainted on a glowing summer day, And they found they liked each other, (which is oftentimes the way); And the river got so friendly, and it ran so very slow, That the birch-tree shone reflected in the water down below!

—Margaret E. Sangster Jr., in The Christian Herald.

Soon Over His Cold.

Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. George Lewis, Pittsfield N. Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with a cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him much good until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."
