War on Racing Circuits.

Toledo, O., Jan. 30.—(United Press)—Owners of tracks in the Ohio circuits will meet here today to consider action regarding the war between that circuit and what is known as the Erie circuit. Fear of action by the Erie division, which plans opposing dates prompts the call.

One Legged Men Organize.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—(United Press)—The tap-tap of oak pegs on asphalt streets, the thump-thump-thumping of half a hundred wooden legs, will resound through the echoing streets of the national capital early in June. It will mark the first national convention of one-legged men—here to organize the National One-Legged Men's association. The only qualification of membership is lack of a leg. No mere bipeds need apply.

York has resulted in an overwhelming opinion among New York newspapers in favor of Miske. Each time, however, there have been enough dissenting voices to make it quite apparent that enough of a shade was not earned to warrant a decision. In the first bout, two papers awarded a decision to Dillon, while two others called the bout a draw.

Such slamming and banging as has been indulged in by these boys certainly calls for a better opportunity than has been afforded in New York with a referee who refused to recognize that Queensberry rules call for a man to fight with one arm free. They deserve a bout somewhere where the proceeds will be enough to compensate them for the splendid exhibitions they give. Also, they deserve the decision that would be given. New York promoters undoubtedly will be after a return match between the boys. The fans like that kind of milling and they'd be the greatest attraction possible, with the exception of Les Darcy, in their division. It is not improbable that Darcy will be mon of St. Paul, and Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis whiz, have accomplished at least one thing. They have proved beyond a question that the fans never will be satisfied as to who is really the better man until the two have had a chance to mill it out in a long bout with a referee's decision tacked onto the last round. Each bout between the two in New

FOOTBALL FIELD PREPARED HIM FOR WORK AS JUDGE

Willie Heston, Formerly of Grants Pass, Oregon, Former Quarterback At Michigan, Is Now a Police Court Judge At Detroit, Michigan—Football, He Says, Builds Up Strength of Character and Body.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 30.—(United Press)—"The things I learned on the football field are the ones that fitted me for life. The fact that I went to college for two seasons—to soak up knowledge and to learn football—was the greatest point in my preparatory life."

That's the way Willie Heston, formerly of Grants Pass, Oregon, former quarterback at Michigan university, and twice selected on the mythical all-American eleven, has the thing sized up. Willie is a police court justice now in Detroit, and he isn't known as Willie any more. He's Police Justice William M. Heston and he puts it over.

One of the ambitions of Judge Heston's life was to rid himself of the name "Willie." In school and afterwards he did his best to shake it but to no avail. Finally he got himself elected judge and they had to quit calling him "Willie."

Heston declared that if every youth were given the chance he had to learn football—to get the spirit of fair competition in sports drilled into his system—there would be little need for police courts.

"I know what it has taught me," he said. "I believe it would do as much for any other man. When I see poor, weak, spineless unfortunates come before me for one crime or another the wish that he could have seen service under Yost or Keene Fitzpatrick hits me right between the eyes. If he could have had that training he wouldn't be living the wrong kind of life."

"Probation and parole are two things that have resulted from my gridiron training. I know that whenever we were beaten we always were cheered by the thought that next year we would have another chance. I don't believe there's a man alive, who, if given the opportunity to put everything behind him, would not glory in the thought of another chance. That's what the parole is for, and I'm a firm believer in it."

"Studying football in colleges may be the subject of a good many jokes, but it builds strength of character and strength of body. With these assets a man can be a good student. When he gets out into the world the traits football has put there will make a useful, honorable citizen of him."

Spanish War Widows and Orphans Must Wait

Hopes That They Will Be Granted Pensions by Congress This Year Will Probably Be Disappointed.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—(United Press.)—Widows and minor children of officers and enlisted men who have served in the war with Spain who have been hoping to be granted pensions by this congress probably will be disappointed. Those hoping for governmental relief and recognition must wait another year.

Swamped with appropriation bills and an administration railroad program which must be considered before March 4, Representative Johnson of Maine today admitted he had little hope that congress would take up his pension bill before adjournment.

School Principal Is On Trial Today

John A. McIver, of Porta Costa, Cal., Is Accused of Becoming Intoxicated and Visiting Saloons.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 30.—(United Press.)—Charged with "drunkenness and immoral and unprofessional conduct," John A. McIver, principal of the Porta Costa, Cal., schools appeared before the state board of education today for a "fight to the finish." McIver stoutly denies all these charges which are made by the district trustees and has hired two prominent attorneys to defend him. The direct matter before the board is whether or not to revoke McIver's diploma. The specific charge against McIver is that on October 7, last, he became intoxicated when he visited Martinez, Cal., to attend a board meeting. It is alleged that he spent considerable time in a saloon on Ferry street in that city, accompanied by his wife. The trustees also charge that he visited other saloons and imbibed so freely that he was plainly intoxicated.
