SHERRY'S

SHERRY'S

Two hours after Mary Blake, an actress, was married to her manager, the first and legal Mrs. Kearney turned up and nullified the lifetime of happiness the little actress had been promised by her near-husband. To find solace in hard work, Miss Blake joined the Manhattan Repertoire company to play many parts in one week, and travel from town to town. In the very first village the company appeared, Mary was stricken with pneumonia and had to be left behind—almost penniless and friendless among utter strangers. Right here is where the element of charity steps in to form the central vein of interest in the Bluebird photoplay, "The Honor of Mary Blake," to be exhibited at the Sherry theater for the last time tonight with Violet Mersereau playing the role of the heart-sore and physically stricken actress. The picture-story will constitute gripping entertainment for "fans" who like unusual dramas uncommonly well played.

In her latest Artercraft picture, "The Pride of the Clan," to be seen in this city shortly, she portrays the Scotch lassie and when clad in kilts and with her golden hair thrown about her gracefully poised head she is more beautiful than ever. It is a character too that holds out every opportunity to the star for making it one of the most popular parts she has ever created. In other words, it is an ideal Mary Pickford part and that is just what all of the many Mary Pickford admirers most want.

WM. S. HART IN BIG PLAY OF PATRIOTISM

Author Monte M. Katterjohn Gives Triangle-Ince Star a Role Depicting Devotion to Native Land.

What is expected to prove one of the most unusual dramas ever offered on the Triangle program will be seen at the Arcade theater today and tomorrow, when Thomas H. Ince presents William S. Hart in "The Patriot," a thrilling story of the Mexican border from the pen of Monte M. Katterjohn. This is the play that already is well known as having been staged almost in its entirety on the strife-ridden international boundary line. It is unique, in that it has no women in its cast.

Francis plays the part of Billy Allen, who prevents Hart from going through with his plot to betray his country.

Others in the cast are Joe Goodby, the Indian actor; Roy Laidlaw, Milton Rose, P. D. Tabler, Charles K. French.

Several cases of measles about town have caused the city authorities to take special care in the matter of fumigation, etc.

R. V. Davis, Thomas Marks and Will Bufford came down on the early train from High Valley Tuesday morning in time to catch the Central for La Grande, where Mr. Marks took out his final papers.

Cheer up! There are one or two things developing just now that may bring Union to the front with a jump. But the facts are not ready for publication.

Druggist Fizer was in La Grande this week having an eye attended to. A piece of glass in the eye-ball worked out after six years and made some trouble, but he is getting along all right.

The Central Railroad company this week secured a new engine from La Grande while the old one is being repaired.

Percy Rollins has been added to the Republican's news-gathering force, and will give especial attention to the schools.

T. J. Norval has completed a residence house for Charles Henry of Ramo Flat having been engaged in that work for several weeks past.

Reports from Portland indicate a more favorable condition of Mrs. Florence Dobbin, who had suffered a nervous collapse some time ago.

W. W. Green shipped two blooded calves from his fine herd of Short-horns here this week to Ianthus Chandler of Richland, Oregon. The animals were shipped by express to Robinette from where they will be driven to the Chandler ranch in Eagle valley.

The calves are very fine young animals, one of them is a yearling, the other about 10 months of age. Mr. Chandler purchased a young bull calf from the Green herd last year and must have been well pleased as he is coming back after more. These two animals brought $225 each or a total of $450 for the two.

High Cost of Living Now Visiting Japan

Tokio, Jan. 5.—(United Press by Mail.)—That modern terror, the High Cost of Living, has today invaded Japan, a country long famed for feeding and clothing its people on a mere pittance. It is estimated in economic circles here that prices of all kinds of goods have increased on an average of 30 per cent.

Staple commodities are included in the general boosting of prices. Sugar has increased from 20 to 30 per cent; salmon, 50 to 100 per cent; wine, 20 per cent; beans, 30 to 40 per cent; grain and canned goods, 10 to 20 per cent; and fuel 20 per cent. The cost of wearing apparel has also gone up. Also rice.

The war is made to indirectly shoulder the blame for Japan's unusual economic situation.

"But conditions differ according to the commercial status of each nation," says the Hochi Shimbun in commenting on the H. C. of L.'s conquest of Nippon. "Among the causes that underlie the rise in Japan's market prices, are the increased cost of war materials, the prosperity of foreign trade and the abundance of money. The redundancy of gold and the expansion of convertible notes must also be said to have a significant influence."

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL QUILTS SERVING TEA

Buenos Aires, Feb. 7.—(United Press)—Minister of Public Works Torello has abolished afternoon tea in his department. He figures that he will save the time of the employees to a value he can hardly estimate. The tea and its adjuncts used to cost about $52,800 annually.

ELECTRIC STOVES

give you

Real Fireless Cookery

Electric stoves furnish genuine fireless cooking—because first and last there isn't any fire at all. Get that? No fire at all. No fire to start. No fire to put out. No fire with all the fire danger—the burning up of the fresh air. No coal to lug up. No ashes to take out and cart away. Not even a smell of gas.

You can fry eggs and broil bacon or chops right on the dining-room table! That saves a good many steps, especially in the dark, early mornings, when you are in a hurry—or in the evenings when you are tired. And you have all the quick handiness of a cold lunch, too, only it's hot and satisfying.
