THE Royal Club Man says "National Pay-Up Week" is not a local idea and sensitive ones owing bills should not consider this campaign a personal attack to subtract a said amount from them at this stipulated time as this "stimulator" originated in the East a few years ago and has proven very effective through the general publicity given it and the sentiment created, resulting in an extra effort on the part of thousands of people to raise sufficient amount of money to pay up shop and professional bills at that time, thereby enabling the other fellow to meet his obligations and the next and so on, accomplishing no end of good in the spring house-cleaning of old debts that could not be taken care of in any other manner—no offence, good thing, boost it along.

Insist on Royal Club, get the best and Pay Up Week will be a joy.
