YANKEES STARTS ALL OVER WITH THIS SEASON'S TRAINING

BY H. C. HAMILTON (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Feb. 21.—With all the cracks putted and the broken legs as good as ever, the Yankees will get away to another flying start in their hunt for a pennant. The first Yankee squad will leave New York Saturday for Macon and the balance of the team will follow a week later. The Yanks deteriorated from a pennant possibility last season to a hospital squad that had a hard time staying in the first division. This year everything will be all patched and ready when training starts.

Donovan has just as fine a looking squad of players to start this year as those who opened the season a year ago. If anything, the layout for 1917 surpasses that of the preceding annum. Walter Pipp, home run king of the American league, is a more finished ball player than a year ago, and he will land the first basing job without any opposition.

Fritz Maisel is being groomed for a shot at second base and he is expected to outshine Joe Gedeon, the fliver of a year ago, to such an extent that Joe will drift back to AA classification. Roger Peckinpaugh, a splendid fielder and an excellent hitter when hits are needed, will be stationed again in the shortfield.

At third base Home Run Baker, the pride of Maryland, has his job cinched and there are no broken ribs to interfere with his work. He will report with the second squad. While his hitting last year was not up to marks in former years, this is attributed to the injury he received when he crashed into the grandstand at the Polo Grounds and broke up a few ribs.

Angel Aragon, utility at third base last year; Paddy Bruman, who also filled in a few crevices, and Charley Mullen, star of the utility boys, will be on hand to get ready for any emergency. Donovan has promised a complete second line defense for this year's efforts.

Al Walters, sensational young catcher, will be the mainstay of the catching staff again this year, and he will have lots of assistance from Alexander and Leslie Numamaker. This is one of the brightest spots of the Donovan clan.

An outfielders there will be Lee Magee, Hughie High, Tim Hendryx, and Frank Gilhooley. Hendryx, by the way, gave promise last year of making some of the others step some to retain their places.

The pitching staff is a thing to dream about. With a year of experience together tucked away and with the confidence of a young baseball club behind them, this staff should blaze the way this year with little trouble.

Two of the greatest southpaws—youth ones—in the game are on the Yankee payroll in the persons of Geo. Megridge and Nick Cullop. Megridge is not a youngster in the truest sense of the word, having been in the majors several times before. He never flashed his real capability, however, until he landed with the Yankees, and he suddenly has blossomed into a truly great hurler. Cullop suffered an injury to his knee last year that laid him up for awhile, but he has written that he is ready for duty just as soon as his salary demands are met.

Bob Shawkey, Slim Love, Ray Fisher, Urban Shocker, Al Russell and Ray Caldwell—it is hoped—will make up the balance of the regular hurling staff. Enough to drive any world's champions to drink if injuries don't sash up the club again.

Bill Piercy and Dan Tipple, two splendid prospects, will be given thorough trials again this year, in addition to Ross, Enwright, McGraw, Ferguson and Monroe.

BIG INTERNATIONAL AND INTERSECTIONAL POLO AT RIVERSIDE, CAL., FEB. 22

BY H. C. HAMILTON (United Press Staff Correspondent.) New York, Feb. 21.—The big polo tournament which has been going on at Riverside, California, since the 12th of the month will wind up Thursday with a big international championship—the British-American game.

This gathering probably has witnessed as great a collection of American polo stars as ever was gotten together in the United States, not even excepting the galaxies of stars sometimes at Meadowbrook Field, Long Island.

In the match of England vs. America, Hugh Drury, the noted English player now living at Riverside and playing with the Riverside club, has organized a team of Britishers to go against the American team captained by Malcolm Stevenson.

8 WOMEN TO JUDGE DOGS AT FANCY CANINE SHOW MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

New York, Feb. 21.—(United Press) Every dog certainly will have his day at Madison Square Garden beginning with this one. Eight women judges will pass on the respective qualities of the fabulously valued Fidoes at the Westminster Kennel club show, which is perhaps the dog show with more real dog than any like event anywhere in the United States.

Mrs. E. C. Huntington of Brooklyn will chose the prize winners among the bull terriers. Lady Savery of Stokes Pogis, England, is scheduled to be here to pass on the Sealychams, though the German blockade may delay her. English and Gorden setters will be featured by A. F. Hockwell of Dayton, Ohio; and Irish setters by Dr. Alexander Glass of Philadelphia.

An unusually large number of Canadian entries are booked. Fox and beagle hounds will be present in large and copious quantities.
