would be called out by groups at 12 and 24-hour intervals after Sunday. If the paralysis of freight traffic thus caused does not result in surrender by the railroads before that time the employees on all passenger trains will be ordered out Wednesday.

The railroad managers said today they expected that enough of their men would remain loyal to enable them to maintain a skeleton service on most roads.

The managers some time ago caused a census of their employees to be taken to determine how many would refuse to go on strike. This resulted, it was said, in varying percentages, ranging from a very few on some roads to from 50 to 60 per cent on others.

The managers estimated that between 30,000 and 40,000 men are employed on the roads on which the strike is to begin Saturday night.

The members of the managers' committee will remain here until today. If the men ask another conference it will be granted. They say they would make every effort to operate their roads in spite of the strike.

Preference will be given to the movement of trains carrying food and fuel.

When the managers, in their counter-proposition at the final momentous conference offered to abide by any decree of the Goethals commission if the Adamson act were declared unconstitutional, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, spokesman for the employees, declared:

"That would be only another form of arbitration, and our men are sick and tired of arbitration."

The brotherhood chiefs contend their demand for the basic eight-hour day for all classes of work, with pro-rata time for overtime, would give them only what they would gain under the provision of the Adamson law. They have abandoned their original demand for time and a half for overtime.

Declaring that the rank and file of the brotherhood membership had become impatient and would tolerate no further delay in enforcing their demands, Mr. Lee said the supreme court might adjourn without handing down a decision on the Adamson act. In that event, he declared, there would be no decision until next winter and the men would not wait.

The managers' refusal to comply with the ultimatum of the brotherhoods was based upon the contention that they must "await and abide" by the decision of the supreme court on the Adamson act. They asserted their willingness to submit the whole controversy to the eight-hour commission if the law is declared unconstitutional and agreed to accept any decree of the commission.

Pointing out to the four chiefs the grave international crisis which confronts the Nation, they appealed to their patriotism to prevent a strike.

The brotherhood chiefs, in a formal statement, expressed indignation at the attitude taken by the railroads in declaring a strike would be unpatriotic. "It goes without saying," the statement declared, "that the railroad employees have been patient and loyal to the interests of the country, and in the event of war have offered their services to the government. It must not be overlooked that during this period, when the railroads have persistently denied their employees that which was intended by the President in his proposition, and that which was intended by the Congress in the Adamson law the railroads, during a year's period, showed net earnings of more than a thousand million dollars, while the employees, with no increase in wages, have suffered an increase in cost of living equal to more than 40 per cent.

"If after more than a year, we have failed to secure some relief, and train and engine men conclude to fold their hands and starve in reality rather than by degrees, should they be considered as disloyal to their flag?"

luncheon at the Foley this noon. He outlined his evening's talk. Doctors and visitors from Eastern Oregon points were at the luncheon and will attend the show tonight. The La Grande Moose lodge members will march to the show in a body tonight.

Among the Baker visitors here are City Superintendent of Schools A. C. Strange, Thomas Rich, John Fraser, Commercial Club Secretary Walter Meacham, Alpha Christly, W. C. Calder, Mr. Stockman, Pierce Correll and William Stouthard. The Baker delegation is probably the largest that has attended the show, as a delegation.

FINE STALLION

I have just sold to Mr. J. A. Woodell, of La Grande, who has a ranch near Imbler, the imported Percheron Stallion "Kellerman" (91453) 89250.

Kellerman is a dark grey and weighs now 2100 pounds. He is an extra price horse with extreme action and was sired by the great $40,000 Percheron Stallion "Carnot" (66666) 66666. Carnot sold for the highest price and his service fee $150 is the highest of any Percheron Stallion in America. It is possible that Kellerman's pedigree is equal to any Percheron Stallion in America today.

Farmers who have good mares can well afford to patronize him.

Also, I sold a good black Belgian bred stallion to D. T. Murchison, near Imbler. He also will be a credit to the neighborhood where he is kept.
