MODART CORSETS

Front Laced

Why Look Older Than You Are?

It is astonishing how many women through lack of attention are wearing corsets that give a more mature appearance to the figure than it should have and consequently they appear to be five or ten years older than they are.

It is possible to readily improve that condition if you will come to our corset department and get a trial fitting of the MODART front-laced corset.

See for yourself the youthful and graceful lines this famous corset will give you.

No expense to you—do not buy unless there is a decided improvement—then you should.

No Matter How Much You Fight, You Must Make Up for Costume Ball

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press)
On Monday she was a saintly nun, On Tuesday a Carman bold, On Wednesday she was the harem's pride, In veils and an anklet gold; On Thursday night in a cheesecloth scarf, She went as a piece of cheese, On Friday night as "The breath of Spring," She started to sneeze and sneeze; Saturday found her a red cross nurse, Most terribly cross and red, For after a week of costume balls She really was almost dead; But even then on the Sabbath morn, She wasn't herself they said, For she was a pink pajama girl When they tucked her into bed.

New York, March 22.—Masquerades and costume fetes certainly seem to be growing on us. If only the costumes themselves could grow on us it wouldn't be so expensive.

Dressing up is the universal joy of all ages and all nationalities. In all walks of life we find a penchant for it from infancy, when we are just beginning to toddle, till old age, when we are just beginning to totter.

There's this vast difference though between the dressing up of childhood and the dressing up of maturity. All you have to give the children an excuse for dressing up is a bit of old ribbon or a discarded hat, but as an excuse for the dressing up of grown-ups you have to give an Arabian Nights' ball or an Old World fete.

The war, of course, has provided the best excuse of all for dressing up, with costume balls for all sorts of relief for all sorts of nations. Consequently life in the big American cities is just one costume ball after another and even out in Wamego, Kansas and Adrain, Michigan, the cowboy suits and trowsers, the Chinese kimonos and Colonial gowns at the local costumers are almost worn to a thread. Have you ever noticed how invariably people pick out their costumes to represent some character in direct antithesis to their ordinary every day personality. They sort of cut loose, as it were and let themselves be what they have always secretly yearned to be in their innermost bosoms. For instance the meek drab little housewife and mother blossoms out into a devilishly seductive Carmen, Thais or Cleopatra.

The rather gay young person who makes up her lips and powders her nose runs to Quaker, nun or Red Cross nurse effects while the portly and Amazonian Miss Vera Bigg comes as a baby doll or Little Boopie.

This works for males as well as the fair sex and Mr. Hen Peck always masquerades as a swashbuckling grenadier or a bloodthirsty Corsair. Prof. Erasmus Highbrow as Little Boy Blue or Buster Brown and Deacon Goods as Don Juan or Mephisto.

Arabian Nights' Balls, Russian Fetes and Masques of the Gods have become a bit cloying after endless repetition so that a recent benefit ball where all the guests came to represent some well-known advertisement was a welcome and diverting novelty. The costumes were most clever and unique and the idea will bear much repetition for private consumption. Possibilities for costumes are endless and beautifully simple. If you want to go as a dentifrice just wear a smile and carry a toothbrush.

Or if you so choose you may carry a spear, wear a corsage of mint leaves and go as a gum girl.

If the costumes are restricted to certain periods or certain groups of things the ideas are apt to be much cleverer and more original than when a sweeping conglomeration of everything is permissible.

A Ball of Jewels invites wonderful effects or a Floral Fete or a Vegetable Gambol. A Culinary Cutup is an idea to be gobbled up without delay. Just think how cunning you would look as a mince pie or a Welsh Rabbit.

An artist's ball with every one to represent some well known canvas character or beauty lacks freshness since all the Masters, old and modern have been worn to the last coat in many tableaux vivants for several seasons. Then too painted ladies are no novelty. An electrical source would be nice for the men. It would be so simple for the majority of them to come all lit up.

What a terrible risk though it would be to give a theatrical fete, for nine chances out of ten all the men would come as Charlie Chaplin and all the women as Annette Kellerman.

The safest and most novel idea of all is a best seller dansant with each guest as a popular novel. At least then everyone would be bound to come in some sort of a cover.

The Pneumonia Season.

The cold, damp weather of March seems to be the most favorable for the pneumonia germ. Now is the time to be careful. Pneumonia often results from a cold. The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. As to the value of this preparation, ask one who has used it.—Adv.

Mist Of The Evening.

Mist of the evening,
Touching the stream;
Twilight descending,
Mountains a-dream;
All of creation
Huddled in sleep—
Silence about me,
Silence as deep
As if I, lonely,
Lived in a land
Guarded by mountains,
Peopled by sand.
Wistful I stand there,
Longing to see
One who brings heaven
Nearer to Me!

Mist of the evening—
Lonely I stand,
And as the night time
Creeps o'er the land,
Sudden the stillness
Fills with delight,
Laughter, and singing,
Gone is the night.
Clear as the water,
Light as the foam,
Sounds her voice calling,
Calling me home!

—Margaret S. Sangster in the Christian Herald.

Worms Make Children Fretful.

Children suffering from worms are dull and irritable, puny and weak, often grind their teeth and cry out in sleep, being a constant source of worry to their parents. Kickapoo Worm Killer is a mild laxative remedy in candy tablet form that is pleasant to take. Promptly effective, it kills and removes the worms from the system. Irregular appetite and bowel movement, lack of interest in play are sure signs of worms. Remove your child of this burden. At all druggists, 25c.—Adv.

Just Between Girls

Agnes—No, I would never marry a man to reform him.
Ethel—Well, I don't think myself that harsh measures are the best.—Boston Transcript.
