day or two a larger force of men can be used, and the work rapidly finished.

Precautions have been taken to bank up the intake of the irrigation ditch which lets the water into the tin sewer, and also for closing gaps in the levy, in order to prevent floods in that part of town.

In excavating for the heating plant and coal apartments the foundation of the city building has been weakened, and it is my opinion that measures should be taken toward protecting same. I have had a builder examine the foundation, prepare estimate of the cost of placing additional walls and piers to insure the building's safety. The estimate is only approximate, and ranges from $300 to $350.

The concrete work on the heating plant has been completed, but forms have not yet been removed. The job will be ready for inspection by next meeting night.

Respectfully submitted,
F. B. CURREY,
General Manager.
