Hippodrome Show Makes a Big Hit

"The best vaudeville bill of the season," was what everyone of the large audience said last night after seeing the Hippodrome show at the Arcade theatre and the Alice Brady feature film, "Miss Petticoats."

Ives, Farnsworth and Weaver, a male trio soon to go over the Orpheum circuit, made a tremendous hit with their fine trios and solos. The men all have good voices, are willing performers, and present a fine appearance. "Musical Walsh" did a clever musical novelty act, with unique electrical effects. Mr. and Mrs. Keenan Wallace won many laughs in their comedy sketch. It was a Portland show at moderate prices.

The Moose had a big night last night, installing officers, initiating candidates and enjoying a fine banquet. The charter, it was announced, will close April 18 and Organizer Burt is now making his spring drive.

Pest Club Meeting Held at Blue Mountain Grange.

R. A. Ward, of U. S. Biological Survey, and County Agriculturist Paul Spillman held their first meeting at the Blue Mountain Grange yesterday.

Demonstrations were made before the audience. The Grange will have charge of the work in that section. A large appreciative audience was in attendance.

One good phase of the work is that poison used will not harm wild birds. Mr. Ward says this applies only to the poison used by the Biological Survey and not to other poisons on the market.

Trap Shoot Will Be Held Here Sunday

Under the leadership of Chief of Police Lou Rayburn, the La Grande Gun club has been organized and the first trap-shoot will be held Sunday back of the hospital. The shoot is open to members of the club. Each will shoot 25 shots and the five high shots will count. It will be a telegraph shoot against the clubs of other cities in the Inland Empire Trapshooters' league for two cups presented by The Oregonian.
