Ladd Canyon News

Ladd Canyon, Ore., April 7.—(Special)—Her parents, and some friend have heard from Helen Peebler nearly every day since she went to the McLain Orthopedic sanatorium, at St. Louis for treatment for spinal-meningitis. She is now able to place her feet flatly on the floor since having a cord in one ankle severed. She takes foot and various other exercises on seventeen different electrical machines for a period of three hours each morning. She states that there are now two hundred children there for treatment, that it is a fine big institution, and that she likes it there very well.

Henry McClure, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure, who was operated upon at Hot Lake by Dr. Phyl for appendicitis, has been home for some time and is getting along very nicely.

Mrs. Wm. Banton entertained the Get-Together Club members very pleasantly at her home March 22. Most of the members were present and everyone had a lovely afternoon.

Mrs. Benj. Bainbridge was the hostess to the same club Thursday afternoon.

Everybody had a fine time at the St. Patrick's dance at E. C. Fields. The last one was a sack apron and overall dance. Of course a big tiff was had by all.

The weather is more like spring now, the snow is disappearing very fast, but the water hasn't gotten very much of a start yet.

ARE you reading the history now running serially in advertisement form in Colliers, Saturday Evening Post and other national magazines of the building of the Union Pacific?

Union Pacific is a national achievement upon which depended the safety of the Union and the holding of the Pacific States.

The stories are rich in intimate facts of United States history. When you read them you will realize what a great part Union Pacific played in the growth and welfare of our Nation; and how truly serviceable Union Pacific is and will be—in peace or war—to the people of our United States, as individual travelers, or shippers, and as a Nation.

UNION PACIFIC SYSTEM

Preparedness Train To Visit La Grande

Wallowa, Enterprise, Elgin Are Also On Itinerary of O. A. C. Special Which Will Show People How to Fight Against High Cost of Living.

Corvallis, Ore., April 7.—(Special)—A Union Pacific System Food Preparedness Campaign special train under auspices Oregon Agricultural College Extension Service will visit La Grande on Wednesday, April 18, on an offensive-defensive campaign against the high cost of living due to America's coming participation in the war. Better production of family foods by utilization of back yards and waste places in intensive vegetable and poultry growing, better use of the product by canning and storing for the rainy day, and kitchen economy by rescuing from waste the vast quantities of human food that leak out through the kitchen sink and the garbage can, are the objectives of the campaign.

The train will consist of a baggage car and a coach, which will be equipped by the Extension Service of the Agricultural College and operated by the O.-W. R. & N. Railway Company over its lines from Portland to Bend, Wasco, Milton, Enterprise and Baker, stopping at the larger towns. The aid of commercial clubs, parent-teacher circles, high schools and other civic improvement bodies, will be sought in making the demonstrations available to the largest possible number of persons. M. O. Evans, Jr., is now making arrangements for the demonstrations.

In addition to lectures explaining methods of growing vegetable crops, gathering, canning and storing them, an exhibit of garden plans, for lots of different sizes, the best kind of plants to be grown in the district and methods of tillage, will be carried in the baggage car. Canning demonstrations will be given, showing simple and inexpensive ways of preserving vegetables, fruits and meats.

Food values, their economical uses and substitution of cheaper for the more expensive foods without loss of nutrition value, and especially substitution for meats, will be considered by the home economic specialists. Among other things, the very latest wrinkles in cooking will be explained.

The poultry lectures will be supplemented by exhibits showing model back-yard poultry plants—pens, houses and equipment such as nests, brooders, incubators, etc.—with methods of feeding and handling which are practiced by the College Poultry department with their world-champions hens. The following people will accompany the train:

Prof. R. D. Hetzel, Extension director; a representative of the O.-W. R. & N., in charge of the train; Prof. A. G. Bouquet, head of the College vegetable gardening work, first week; R. W. Allen, sup't. Hermiston Experiment Station, second week; Miss Helen Cowgill, assistant state leader of club work, canning; C. C. Lamb, extension poultry specialist, poultry; and Miss A. Grace Johnson, instructor of domestic science, home cooking. Advance arrangements are in charge of M. O. Evans, Jr., who is now making arrangements for local cooperation in the towns where the demonstration will be held.
