

If You Can't Come Send a Letter

It probably often happens that you cannot conveniently come to La Grande when drug store needs arise. At such times, if you will write us what you want, or about what you want, we will send it to you at once.

We assure you that you will receive as low prices and as carefully chosen goods as though you bought in person. Buying in this manner incurs no risk—anything sent you not wholly satisfactory is returnable at our expense.

If you are in doubt as to prices and have not time to write for them, it is better to send too much money than too little. Any excess will be returned to you.

Picked Up By The Stroller

Strolling into the mess room of Company M's quarters this morning I observed two of the boys slicing some overgrown members of the cucumber tribe out of a keg of brine that was guaranteed to hold up an express train. Feeling the need of something strong I accepted one of the pickles the boys offered me. Gathering up all of the pluck I could command so that I wouldn't show a white feather before real soldiers I bit off an enormous hunk. A feeling of bravery immediately run through my whole system and my backbone stiffened. I realized what makes our Oregon boys brave. For no doubt that after Company M devours that strengthening dish of pickles they could completely annihilate the German Army.
