Proper Food for Weak Stomachs.
The proper food for one may be all wrong for another. Every one should adopt a diet suited to his age and occupation. Those who have weak stomachs need to be especially careful and should eat slowly and masticate their food thoroughly. It is also important that they keep their bowels regular. When they become constipated or when they feel dull and stupid after eating, they should take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the stomach and move the bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.—Adv.

Lovett Serves Red Cross.

C., May 23.—(Special)—Chairman Lovett of the Union Pacific railroad board, having volunteered to give virtually his entire time during the war to Red Cross work, today became chairman of the committee which will endeavor to coordinate all war relief measures to prevent duplication and waste. Y. M. C. A.'s Part in War.
Washington, May 23.—(Special)—Official recognition has been extended by President Wilson to the Young Men's Christian association as a "valuable adjunct and asset" to the army, although it will continue as a civilian organization. The president's ruling was published today in the general orders of the war department for the information and guidance of officers who are instructed to render fullest assistance and co-operation in the maintenance and extension of the association both in the camp and field.

Read to Happiness.
Be amiable, cheerful and good natured and you are much more likely to be happy. You will find this difficult, if not impossible, however, when you are constantly troubled with constipation. Take Chamberlain's Tablets and get rid of that and it will be easy. These tablets not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.—Adv.

ARCADE

"SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE"

The Last Story by Richard Harding Davis Now Being Shown as a Triangle Picture at the Arcade Theatre Today and Tomorrow.

Both the leading figures in the story, "Somewhere in France," Lieutenant Charles Ravignac and Marie Chaumontel, are spies.

Summing up: "Somewhere in France," co-starring Louise Glaum and Howard Hickman, a dramatization of the last story written by one of the greatest war correspondents in America, in theme, a vampire story of the spy system on European battlefields, presented as a Kay-Bee production on the Triangle program.

The work of Charles Giblyn, who directed "Somewhere in France," the new Triangle-Kay Bee feature film, co-starring Louise Glaum and Howard Hickman, is noted for its masterly handling of details without at any point losing sight of the main issue. Louise Glaum, who has the leading feminine role, is also the star in another recent Triangle release, entitled "The Wolf Woman," while in the now celebrated Frank Keenan picture, "Honor Thy Name," she had a vampire part that aroused much discussion for its able interpretation. Howard Hickman, who in private life is the husband of Bessie Barriscale, plays opposite Dorothy Dalton in "The Jungle Child," and also has an important part in "The Honorable Algy," the forthcoming Charles Ray picture. "Somewhere in France" has an extraordinary number of points of distinction.

Worms Handicap Your Child.

Worms drain the strength and vitality of children, making them dull and listless. Their power to resist more serious diseases is reduced and energy and interest in play is lacking. Kickapoo Worm Killer is a mildly laxative remedy in candy tablet form that children like to take. It kills and removes the worms and lets your child grow strong and healthy like other children. Don't let your child be dragged down by worms. Full directions on the box. At your druggists, 25c.—Adv.

Surprising

There is but little raise in the prices of wall paper over former years. This raise will average about 5 cents a bolt or about 40 cents per average room.

Can you afford to endure that dirty, faded, unsightly paper longer when it will cost so little to have it renewed? To get these real low prices though, you have to come to
