beating his son Edgar unmercifully with a buggy whip. The boy had received one beating last night and another this morning. Unable to stand the treatment he went to the police station for protection and while there the father came after him. He was arrested, thrown in jail and pleaded guilty. The city judge gave him the limit which was 90 days in the city jail. The boy was clad in a thin cotton shirt which could not protect himself from the heavy blows and his back was lacerated and cuts showed several inches in length. His little brother accompanied him and had also been severely beaten but having a coat on was protected to some extent.
