ARCADE

COMPANY M VAUDEVILLE AT ARCADE TONIGHT

Vaudeville, entirely "home talent" but home talent of a different sort, will be on the bill at the Arcade theatre tonight, when the boys of Company M give their benefit performance. The acts range in character from boxing and wrestling to vocal and instrumental musical numbers. The boys have been training faithfully for the performance and this coupled with much native talent and ability gives assurance of a performance that will really entertain.

Among the musical numbers will be the Company M quartet which has already made a number of appearances in La Grande, each time winning laurels for itself. The quartet will be composed of H. F. McInturff, Max Alford, Earl Headrick and Ferris Abbett. They are scheduled to sing popular airs and that is exactly what they will do. They will sing them and they will be popular.

Another act which is not usual is the work of Corporal Peterson who plays the accordeon with a marked appreciation and understanding of that instrument's musical value. He makes real music from an instrument which has not always held an exalted position. His repertoire is extensive and varied.

Zinn and Alford, who are billed as "comedy instrumentalists" will live up to that billing. Zinn plays the trombone and Alford is a cornetists. Both have made reputations in musical circles of Salem. Zinn was director of an orchestra rated among the best in the capital city when in civil life and Alford is one of the best known cornetists in his home.

In the athletic line will be Hendricks and Eckerlen, both weighing 180 pounds, and both fast and clever boys who will stage a three-round boxing bout. Rowin and Davis, will put on a similar go. Their weight is 165 pounds and have developed a lot of speed in the weeks they have been training. All bouts will be two-minute rounds.

"Fighting" Harry Plant challenges all comers in the heavyweight class and he is able to meet them and to give any ordinary amateur pugilist a big bunch of entertainment.

Lawson and Pike will wrestle. Pike has been in the game in an amateur way for several years and Lawson went in for this line of sport while attending the University of Washington.

O'Neill, one of the best known wrestlers in the country, has agreed to help the boys of the company and will meet all comers.

The picture will be the brilliant Japanese star, Sessue Hayakawa in "The Bottle Imp," a Paramount picture.

Admission will be 30c for adults and 10c for children.

HOW CAPITAL SIZED UP ARTHUR JAMES BALFOUR

Wears Frock Coat and Striped Trousers—Movements Suggest An "Outdoor Man."

Washington has sized up Arthur James Balfour in this way:

Five feet ten and three-quarter inches in height.

Weight 155 pounds or thereabout.

Of slender figure, with narrow shoulders that stoop slightly, but very long, sinewy arms—a figure unusually athletic for a man of sixty-nine years.

The Balfour head is long and narrow, with an overhanging brow, "bulging" type. It is covered with gray hair, at the temples trained down to a thin skein of whiskers that extend an inch along the cheek.

The Balfour face is "sharp," though the mild gray blue eyes detract somewhat from the general impression gained when the Balfour countenance is in repose. The nose is aquiline, almost hawklike, with prominent bridge.

The Balfour eyes are rather prominent, ordinarily steely and penetrating save when the Balfour smile comes into them to radiate over the entire face. This smile is infectious—"winning," it might almost be called.

When the Balfour smile is working—which is most of the time—there is little in the expression to suggest the "bloody Balfour" of Fenian days when the then secretary of foreign affairs for Ireland was compelled, with firm hand, to stay frequent disorders.

The Balfour voice is that of the orator and linguist. It possesses all the charm of the well cultivated English vocal vehicle. It is soft, modulated, almost to a whisper at times, though it is decidedly resonant when roused in public speaking.

The chief use Mr. Balfour makes of his brilliant power of speech is to keep it out of action most of the time. He is an eloquent listener, his smile taking the place of speech.

While engaged in official missions, such as that which brings him to the United States, the British secretary for foreign affairs garbs himself much as he does when he goes to parliament.

The chief features of it are a long frock coat that flaps around his knees, gray striped trousers, comfortably square toed shoes, a black string tie and a narrow brimmed silk hat that appears to sit uncomfortably on his head.

The Balfour walk and movement suggest "the outdoor man." His stride is long and swinging, and he moves along at a very rapid gait.

The Balfour diversions—he is a bachelor—are bicycling, golf and almost boyish fondness for dime novels of the "shilling shocker" sort and profound works on philosophy. He can recite pages of Socrates in the original. He speaks French, German, Spanish, Italian and can make himself understood in the original Gaelic.

That the distinguished statesman has a sense of humor is indicated by the tribute of one of his associates, who is authority for the statement that "Balfour can make a really good pun, with an American punch, as you call it."

TAKE TWENTY SUBMARINES.

Base Located by British, the Starving Crews Surrendered.

A member of the British war commission declared in Washington that twenty German submarines and their crews were captured by the British on April 10, the day before the party sailed.

"They weren't exactly captured, either," said the Englishman. "They had been searching for a destroyed base for days, had been suffering for food and water, and when our boats picked them up many of the men were on the verge of starvation. The crews were quite subdued and gladly surrendered.

"England is getting a lot more submarines than you people in America have any idea of.

"The submarine commanders are having a rough time of it. Their bases are sought out and destroyed almost before they are established. The British know of certain bases, but they let them alone until the submarines are gone, then destroy them and leave the U boats in a hole."

WHAT WILL HAPPEN UNDER DRAFT LAW

Each Man Must Register at His Voting Precinct.

GOVERNORS TO DIRECT WORK

Registration Day Will Probably Be Ten or Fifteen Days After President Signs Measure—Volunteer Registrars Wanted—How Those Absent From Home and the Sick Must Proceed.

In a concise statement recently issued by the war department the procedure following the signing of the conscription bill is outlined simply and to the point. The statement follows:

"There was a time in the country's history when military enumerators, backed by bayonets, went out among the people to take a compulsory service census. Today under the principle of universal liability to service the execution of the law is put into the hands of the people.

"The approval of the new national army bill and the president's proclamation thereunder will be coincident. All persons within the age limits prescribed will be required to present themselves for registration at the customary voting places in the voting precincts in which they have their permanent homes on a day which the president will announce. The probability is that from ten to fifteen days will elapse between approval of the bill and registration day.

"The governor of each state will be the chief of registration therein. The machinery of registration in each county is to be in charge of the sheriff, the county clerk and the county physician, acting ex officio, unless a different board shall be announced by the governor. In cities containing populations of more than 30,000 the registration will be under the control of the mayor and selected boards of registration. In order that the designated county and city officials and the people generally can get a clear understanding of the census methods the following brief outline is given:

"The sheriffs or other designated officials, immediately upon receiving notice from the governor, shall appoint registrars for each voting precinct.

The Apportionment of Registrars.

"The proportion of registrars shall be one for each 170 persons to be registered. Each age to be registered will comprise about 1 per cent of the population.

"If, for instance, all men between nineteen and twenty-five years of age, inclusive, are to be registered the registrar would have to enroll about 7 per cent of the precinct population.

"It is desirable to accept the services of competent volunteer registrars to serve without compensation. All registrars must be sworn.

"The voting place in each precinct must be prepared for registration. Full printed instructions, covering every detail of registration, will be in the hands of sheriffs and mayors on the fifth day after the president's proclamation.

In Cities of Over 30,000 Population.

"The mayor of a city containing more than 30,000 inhabitants or the officials designated by the governor therein shall, with approval of the governor, appoint for each ward or convenient minor subdivision containing about 30,000 people one registration board and shall designate one officer of each board to perform duties similar to those imposed on the sheriff, as heretofore outlined.

"On the fifth day after the president has issued his proclamation clerks of counties and cities of over 33,000 must secure a supply of blanks and copies of the registrations from the sheriff or from the mayor. Absentees and the sick will apply to such clerks to have their registration cards filled out. In no case shall such persons be given registration certificates.

Absentees and the Sick.

"Persons absent from their home counties may be registered by mail. If so absent, a man should go to the clerk of the county where he may be staying on the sixth day after the date of the president's proclamation. If he is in a city of over 30,000 population the city clerk is the official to whom to apply. The absentee will be told how to register, but he must mail his card in time to reach his precinct by registration day.

"Persons too sick to present themselves for registration must send a competent person to the county or city clerk on the sixth day after the issuing of the proclamation. The clerk will give instructions for registration.

"Officials of educational, charitable and other institutions should apply for instructions to the county or city clerk on the sixth day after the date of the proclamation for instructions as to a convenient method of registration.

"The wardens of jails, penitentiaries and reformatories should apply to the county or city clerk for instructions on the sixth day.

"Five days after the date of the president's proclamation complete regulations will be in the hands of all sheriffs and of the officials of cities.

"The president is authorized to call upon all public officers to assist in the execution of the law. The plan is, however, to rely on the people for the proper execution of the law. It is expected that patriotic citizens will offer their services free as registrars."
