C'mon Have Your Picture Taken!

By Mary Pickford.

Smile, please! That's it! Hold it, just a moment!

Mary Pickford is about to take your picture with the assistance of none other than Count Ilya Tolstoy, s.a. of the famous Russian novelist. Soon after arriving in this country recently the count paid "Little Mary" a visit at the studio during the production of her new Artercraft picture, "A Romance of the Redwoods." The well known Russian displayed great interest in motion picture production and assured "America's Sweetheart" that she was "Russia's Sweetheart" as well. But, then—let Mary take the picture. Are you ready? Watch the birds!

In the June Woman's Home Companion a writer says: "It was Jane Welsh Carlyle who wrote these words after thirty years of married life: "I married for ambition; Carlyle has exceeded all that my wildest hopes ever imagined, and I am miserable." "Science has taught us a great many interesting things about race progress and eugenics, but the fundamental principle of eugenics seems to have discovered itself very early in the history of the race. Healthy children are usually those who are born of happy marriages."
