

A Delightful Fragrance That Lingers

This is talcum time. You should select a good talcum for regular use during the warm season. We suggest because it is ideal for both the toilet and nursery. It has a delightful odor that is lasting—and is healing, cooling and refreshing in effect.

A. D. S. ROSE TALCUM

It is pure and antiseptic which makes it valuable for use on soft, tender skins.

The railroad cannot accept such donations. The car will have to stand on its own bottom, and the only way it can be kept on the run is for the actual revenues and patronage to justify it. Railroad officials here are all in favor of the motor car and hope that the actual patronage will justify keeping it on through the summer and fall.

Attends Bankers' Convention.
T. J. Scroggin, cashier of the United States National Bank, returned today from Marshfield where he attended the State Bankers' Convention. The bankers were tendered a banquet at Eugene on their way to Marshfield, which was very enjoyable, and at Marshfield they were overwhelmed with hospitality and entertainment. Patriotism prevailed at all of the sessions of this convention and the principal topic of discussion was the handling of and advancing the sale of the Liberty Bonds.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Chase Bohnenkamp left for Portland last night to be gone a week or two. She will attend the Rose Festival.

Lloyd Perkins returned this morning from Caldwell, Idaho, where he was on a business trip and visiting with friends of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. David Soddard, of this city, were Baker visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Walter Francis was the guest of honor at a bride party given at the home of Mrs. Herman Seigrist last Friday afternoon by Miss Henrietta Foley and Mrs. Herman Seigrist. The afternoon was spent at bridge after which additional guests arrived for tea. Mrs. Francis is in the city from Sidney, Illinois, visiting at the home of her mother and sisters.

The following registered at the Imperial Hotel, Portland, Saturday: L. and D. Hamilton, Enterprise; Lexie Stechan, Joseph; Naomi Williamson, Al Grande; Fred Meyers, La Grande; Al Daniels, La Grande; A. E. Tulley and wife, Wallowa.

Bonds Are Speeded.

Tacoma, Wash., June 11.—(United Press)—With the "Buy a Liberty Bond" campaign coming to an end here June 15, the local bond committee today is speeding up its activity to dispose of Tacoma's apportionment before the time expires.

Age Gives to Red Cross.

Marshfield, Ore., June 11.—(United Press)—William J. Smith, 93, who makes his living by raising chickens and selling eggs, today is a contributor to the Red Cross funds. "I can't
