TEN REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY A LIBERTY BOND.

- 1. Because your country needs the money. 2. It is to pay for feeding, clothing and arming the men who are fighting to save your life and property. 3. It is not a contribution—just a loan. 4. It keeps your money absolutely secure and pays you interest on it—$3.50 a year on each $100 bond. 5. The whole faith and power of the United States guarantees that you will get your money back when the bond falls due. 6. You can sell it any day in the open market. 7. You can get it on easy installments—ask any bank or department store. 8. The government will let you have a $100 bond on these terms: $2 down before June 15; $18 on June 28; $20 on July 30; $30 on August 15; $30 on August 30. Other bonds in same proportion. Banks will arrange for payment of $10 down and $10 a month or better. 9. The government frees your bond from taxes, federal, state or local, except from the inheritance or estate tax. 10. Your brothers are to risk their lives on the firing line. You won't even risk a cent of your money if you buy a bond. Make your dollars into bullets. DO IT TODAY.

THE RED CROSS DRIVE.

What part can the "kiddies", the tender, big-hearted little boys and girls do to help with the war? This is one of the questions that has been interesting the leaders in the great Red Cross drive for $400,000. There are nearly 100,000 children of school age in Oregon and they are, or soon will be out of school for their summer vacations and the Red Cross committee is confident that these thousands of young patriots will be able to make a splendid showing in gifts to the Red Cross if they exercise a little more energy and perseverance in working for the great relief movement. If the school children of Oregon averaged only a dime apiece they would swell the Red Cross fund by a magnificent sum of over $3,000. If they averaged but a nickel apiece, the grand total would be between $1,500 and $2,000. How important the pennies and nickels and dimes may be in the alleviation of suffering and misery among the wounded on the battlefields of Europe, where the American soldiers will soon be doing their bit to help win the

LIVESTOCK REVIEW.

Portland, June 13.—(Special)—Cattle—With one of the lightest Monday's run there was a very active market at steady to strong prices. The beef steer market was very good and the supply not near filling the orders. Included in the small run there were only a few loads of real good beef steers. One bunch of strictly fat steers brought $9.50 while several loads of slough grass cattle brought $9.25. Ordinary and medium steers sold from $8.00 to $8.50 with common Jersey steers down to $6.00. Cows were not in a very good demand most killers having a surplus on hand. Good strictly fat cows sold steady bringing $8.00 to $8.50 while other grades were rather slow. The bull market was firm, best heavy Bolognas bulls bringing $7.50 to $7.75 with fair bulls around $7.00. A load of fairly good calves brought $9.00.

Hogs—The hogs receipts totaled around 1300 head with the market dropping another 25 cents. All packers were bearish, and a slow speculative demand. One load of heavy hogs brought $15.30 with several loads at $15.00 to $15.15. Pigs suffered one of the heaviest cuts during the year, dropping $1 per cwt. the bulk went at $12.00 with a few odd bunches up to $14.00. Eastern markets are still on the sled and seem to be going faster than ever.

Sheep—The sheep receipts were 1500 head. The market was generally unchanged with a fairly good demand. One load of spring lambs brought $13.75 with shorn yearling wethers at $11.25 to $11.50 shorn ewes sold from $8.00 to $9.50.

Quotations are: Spring lambs..... 13.50@13.75 Shorn yearling wethers 11.00@11.75 Shorn ewes9.00@9.50

Sour Stomach.

This is a mild form of indigestion. It is usually brought on by eating too rapidly or too much, or of food not suited to your digestive organs. If you will eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, eat but little meat and none at all for supper, you will more than likely avoid the sour stomach without taking any medicine whatever. When you have sour stomach take one of Chamberlain's Tablets to aid digestion.—Adv.

- One cent will buy iodine to disinfect a wound; One cent will buy enough gauze for one dressing; A nickel will buy a bandage; Eight cents will pay for a temporary splint; A dime will provide chloroform for an operation. Twenty-five cents expended as above may save a limb or a life of a wounded soldier. Every man, woman and child in the state can do something in this gigantic Red Cross Campaign. There will be many of those who are not circumstanced so as to be among the heavy givers, but there never was a movement in the history of philanthropy which offered such abundant opportunity for the high and low, rich and poor to join hands in the common cause as is presented by the American Red Cross. The humble penny, the modest nickel and the bright little dime, each can and does do a definite practical thing toward the work that is before us to do. The child's mite and the rich man's millions will each be received with equal welcome and each will serve the same degree of efficiency in the Red Cross work.

"Do a good deed on Fathers' Day" is the slogan offered this year by the founder of the movement, Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington.

The woman who seven years ago attracted nation-wide attention by suggesting the annual observance of a day set apart in memory of our fathers, now urges the doing of one kindly act on June 17 this year in special commemoration of Fathers' Day. In this connection Mrs. Dodd suggested that each person choose for himself the nature of the kindly deed, bearing in mind the thought that the deed be something which would meet with a father's hearty approval.

The third Sunday in June was selected as Fathers' Day when the movement began in 1910. In Spokane red roses are worn on that occasion if the father be living—white roses if he is dead. Special sermons are delivered in the churches, ministers taking as a favorite subject the example of the father in the parable of the Prodigal Son.

"This year, with our country plunged into the horrors of war, it seems most appropriate that we should bear in mind the great deeds of our fathers in former crises of the nation and do some kindly act to signalize this remembrance," says Mrs. Dodd in her appeal for a continuance of the anniversary celebration. "If in doubt as to just what act would best typify your reverence for your father, I suggest that the Red Cross work, so broad in its scope, would meet the hearty approval of any father."

HELP THE RED CROSS

"Buy a Liberty Bond and give it to the Red Cross." H. L. Corbett, chairman of the Oregon Red Cross committee, thus advises those who have been hesitating whether to help the Liberty Bond or Red Cross $100,000,000 emergency war service fund.

"A Liberty Bond is just as good as money to the Red Cross campaign," continued Mr. Corbett. "This is one instance where one sum will help to its full value two vitally important national needs.

"Buy your Liberty Bond now and have it ready for Red Cross week, June 18-25."

The great importance of the Red Cross campaign to national welfare is stressed in a letter written personally by President Wilson to Lyman L. Pierce, western manager of the Red Cross campaign.

"You and the western members of the finance committee of the Red Cross War Council, Messrs. Miller, Corbett, Crocker and Phipps, are about to undertake a great public service. The enterprise which you will present to the leaders of the business and professional life in the west is at this time one of the most important contributions to the country's welfare which any patriotic citizen can make.

"Will you not convey to the patriotic citizens of the west my very earnest hope that they will deny you no service which they can render?"
