Letters From The Front

(The following letter was received by the Marine Recruiting office, of La Grande, from B. L. Adams, a La Grande boy who enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps and who wrote from Vallejo, Calif.)

Marine Barracks, Mare Island, Vallejo, Calif. Sergeant Lee, Postoffice Building, La Grande, Oregon.

Dear Mr. Lee:—Barron and I arrived all O. K. and in much higher spirits than we left La Grande.

We found everything here much nicer than we expected and are really enjoying the work. If a fellow half-way tries he cannot help but be much better after a few weeks' training. The more advanced companies are a splendid proof of this, and even with us these few days of drill and Swedish exercises have made a marked change for the better—especially is this true in regard to our appetite.

I am glad I can say that all of that liberal advice given to Barron and I before we left was all "bunk," pardon such an expression. Everything is done up to the top notch and I heartily believe that it is the best training a young fellow can receive, both for himself and for the public at large without mentioning what he is doing for his country should he be needed. It is far from being a prisoner's life.

We are given every liberty anyone could expect under the present conditions and it is up to the individual what life here is to him.

I hope you are having all kinds of success with your recruiting at La Grande. I would like to see more young fellows come into the Marine Corps from there. Young fellows are just pouring in from everywhere. The camp is over-crowded but all are given the very best of accommodations and new quarters are rapidly nearing completion.

We have a first-class camp, a nice tent with a floor in it and have electric lights and an oil stove. Our sleeping conditions couldn't be better for a fellow who likes to be in open air. We have plenty of pocket money and all kinds of places to spend it so what else could one expect.

The work isn't kid's play but it will make a man of a fellow if there is anything in him to work on.

Wishing you the very best success, I am, Very truly yours, B. S. ADAMS.
