O. A. C. FOOTBALL PLAYER BREAKS LEG WHILE PLOWING

Lawrence "Sooty" Dutton, former student of the Oregon Agricultural College and half-back of O. A. C. team was thrown from a plow while working on Wilbur Zurbrick's farm yesterday, breaking his left leg. The team of six horses becoming excited ran away throwing Dutton on his left leg which resulted in a bad break. While in a football game last fall with Multnomah the same leg was broken. He was immediately taken to the hospital and is reported to be resting easily this morning.

for enlistment in the Aviation corps at San Francisco but was unable to pass the examination on account of his leg having been broken. Not to be discouraged he was to leave for Portland tonight for final examination for the Aviation corps in that city.

"Sooty" as he is known to most of his friends is well known in this part of the county having spent last summer's vacation on the Reynolds farm near this city.

ELKS TURN CONVENTION FUND OVER TO HOSPITAL CORPS

At a meeting of the Elks lodge last evening T. J. Scroggin, cashier of the United States National bank, who was to have represented the local order of Elks at the national convention held in Boston, July 4th donated the sum of $250, that was to have covered his expenses, to the La Grande Field Hospital corps for a private company fund. Mr. Scroggin put a vote before the order that this be done and that the local lodge not be represented this year at the convention. Mr. Scroggin says that he takes a personal interest in these boys that are leaving as they are the best the city affords and that the fund will help them. Hats off to him for his patriotic sacrifice.
