saw this eminent director's "Birth of a Nation." "Intolerance," tells of love's struggle throughout the ages by means of four stories, the scenes of which are laid in Ancient Babylon; in Judea in the time of Christ; in Medieval Paris and in a modern American city. "Appalling in magnitude and grandeur; tremendous; stupendous; magnificent; awe-inspiring; wonderful, and unsurpassed in splendor," are some of the descriptive terms used by the leading dramatic critics of this country to describe "Intolerance." Mae Marsh, Miriam Cooper, Seena Owen, Constance Talmadge, Bessie Love, Margery Wilson, Elmer Clifton, Lillian Gish, Robert Herron, and Alfred Paget, are among the film favorites having the principal roles.

The orchestra is made up as follows:
Lindsay—Violinist.
Lindsay and Geckler—Clarinet.
Snapp—Bassoon.
Bathé—Flute.
Robinson—Trombone.
Russell—Bass Viol.
Stevens—Piano.
Roberts—Snare Drums.
Ford—Tympanums and Maramphones.
Loney—Cornet.
Director—Loney.

LETTERS FROM THE FRONT.

(Letter from Lee Bradway, of La Grande, who enlisted in U. S. Field Artillery, to his mother.)

San Francisco, June 1.
Dear Mother:—I have received my traveling outfit, turned in my arms and have been issued my tropical service uniform.

I have been ordered for active duty to Honolulu.
Only four more days and then goodbye to U. S. A. and Angel Islands. Who would have thought when I enlisted that I would be assigned to the best army post under the U. S. flag, even climate makes it a great winter resort.

I will probably stay in Hawaii at least six months before we leave for France, then on across the Pacific and when I get home I will have circled the globe.

Hawaii is 2500 miles from the mainland and is nine days sail by transport. This is about from La Grande to New York City. Tell all of my friends that I am going to the Hawaiian Islands.

I don't know Willie's new address so you will have to tell him where I have been assigned.

I got the papers today with the notice of Claude Haisten's death which I regret very much.

My new address will be Lee Bradway, U. S. Field Artillery, Honolulu, H. T.

P. S. This H. T. means Hawaiian Territory, write me there.
Your loving son,
LEE BRADWAY.

16 Children Buried

London, June 23.—(Special)—Sixteen children, only two of whom were over five years of age, the victims of the last German air raid on London, were given public funeral and their bodies were laid in a common grave in an East End cemetery over which a monument will be placed.

Picked Up By The Stroller

A very prominent La Grande institution, so local business men tell me, buys all its supplies outside of La Grande. Other La Grande institutions and some public officials send their printing to Portland. This is a very fine way to build up a town.

"If I was Uncle Sam," said Si Hopper, the prominent hired man, who came to town in his eight cylinder auto yesterday, "I know what I'd do to them suffragettes. I was a bad boy when I was a tad, and the old man used to take me out to the woodshed. And then he'd tell me it hurt him worst than it did me. My old dad was a truthful man. I didn't believe him then but I do now."

Today's War Recipe.

(From Britain's official win-the-war cook-book.)

Scalloped Parsnips—One pound of boiled parsnips, two tablespoonfuls margarine, one teaspoonful grated Parmesan cheese, pepper, salt, and a dash of cayenne, milk as required, breadcrumbs. Mash the parsnips to a puree, and mix in the fat, seasoning, and cheese. Add sufficient milk to make the mixture of a creamy consistency. Pour this into greased scalloped shells or small saucers, sprinkle a few crumbs over each, and bake for eight or ten minutes. Any cold cooked vegetables, such as potatoes, carrots or turnips, may be scalloped in the same way.

(It is far more important now to save bread than money.)
