

A scene from "Civilization which will be shown at Riverside park pavilion the evening of July 4th. The admission to the pavilion—not park—is 50 cents for the entire day. "Civilization" is one of the greatest pictures ever staged. Here is a chance to spend an entire day in picnic grounds and see a wonderful film and hear a good lecture for 50 cents. Chautauqua tickets are good for the day.

Picked Up By The Stroller

Dr. James Whitcombe Brouger told this story: An old soldier attended a big reunion once and listened to the talk of his former comrades in arms. One old fellow had a dislocated liver; another told of his weak heart; another complained of a bad stomach and so on and so on. And when the old soldier came back, his friends asked him if he had enjoyed the reunion. "Reunion nothing," the old fellow declared. "It was an organ recital."

I read in a newspaper where Allen Joy and Miss Notin Gloom were wedded in Milpitas, Calif., and that the wedding was a very gay affair.

Jimmie Hicks says a traveling passenger agent gets to see the world anyway. As for gathering moss, who ever said moss was legal tender?

UNION COUNTY TEACHERS RECEIVE INVITATION

An invitation has been received by the Superintendent of Union County schools from the teachers of Portland to teachers of Union county, to be present at a reception given in honor of the officers and members of the National Educational association Tuesday evening, July 10 at 8:30 p. m., in the Multnomah hotel.

WALLOWA GIVES.

$2000. They had the city of Lostine, the valley territory on each side of town, and Leap. It is a wealthy district although limited in area. Realizing that many more calls for war aid are sure to come, the Wallowa committee set out to raise just about the amount appertained to the local auxiliary, but overran this minimum. The contributions came freely from the generous people of the territory, practically all being given by residents of the city and country immediately surrounding it, and the sums were so distributed that no one felt it.

Enterprise began at late start in its soliciting, because all the committees knew they had a large task, and must organize and lay out their program before beginning work. So the solicitors did not get out until the middle of the week. The results of this preliminary organization were seen in the campaign that followed. It was estimated that two mills on the assessed valuation would be fully assessed, taking in and "tightwads" and persons who could not be reached or would be overlooked. But right at the start it was apparent that this was too high a rate, as nearly everybody gave more than that, and the assessed valuation involved was far greater than $3,000,000. However, it was retained as an approximate rate where any question was raised.

In addition to the amount given or pledged directly to the special Red Cross fund, women of the town raised $411 during the week by means of various activities, making the total for the town close to $9000. In fact the prospect is that the total will reach, or even exceed that figure when all reports are in, as additions are still coming in. Of this, about $8500 will be turned over at once and the remainder will be held in reserve for the next call.

The figures for the various team captains are as follows:
 Dr. C. T. Hockett $1,352.40
 Fred S. Ashley 1,050.775
 Jay H. Dobbey 941.00
 A. W. Hawkins 862.50
 Ian McDonald 872.75
 C. H. Zurcher 805.50

E. O. L. Employees 800.00
 S. F. Pace 799.50
 Carl Roe 552.80
 S. L. Burnaugh 454.70

Total $8,473.90
 The women's activities of the week brought these results:
 Eastern Star dinner $ 25.00
 Pythian Sisters dinner 14.70
 Rebekahs dinner 30.37
 Ladies Aid dinner 22.60
 P. E. O. dinner 18.00
 Literary Club dinner 20.15
 Mrs. C. M. Lockwood committee dance 43.00
 Mrs. F. A. Reavis, committee cooked food sale 64.15
 Mrs. L. E. Jordan, committee luncheon 75.50
 Mrs. S. E. Burgunder, committee show 8.20
 Mrs. Ben Weathers, committee sale 89.70

Total $411.37
 As all these many accounts have been shifting—growing—from hour to hour, the foregoing may contain inaccuracies, but in the main they will be found correct, it is believed. W. F. Savage was appointed treasurer of the special fund, and also of the various supplementary funds. He will make collections on the cards, and will hold the surplus which is to be kept in reserve for the next call. The grand total for the week for the town was Wednesday $8,855.27, or only $114.73 less than $9,000.

Under the Enterprise head was included much given by residents of outside territory, which was assigned to the town to solicit. Several trips were made by soliciting teams into the hills east, northeast and north of town, and the responses of the farmers left no doubt in the minds of any that they were fully awake to the needs of their country. They were both generous and free givers. Other teams visited Alder Slope and Lower Prairie Creek which did their part.

Fred S. Ashley took a party along the Innaha on Sunday, meeting the characteristic liberality of this beautiful section. He was accompanied by Mrs. J. L. Browning, Mrs. Ray E. Vest and G. M. Gaily.

The Flora trip saw four automobile loads on the ground at the church Sunday morning, to explain the Red Cross work and solicit contributions. Those who went were Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Hockett, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Weathers, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roe, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Fred D. Rinehart, Mrs. George Rheem, Mrs. S. D. Keltner and Guy Skaggs. Part of these came home Sunday night, the others remaining to go over the field Monday, getting home barely in time for the last dinner of the campaign that night. The time for work in north end was limited, and some of the leading citizens were away, and so the canvass was carried on under difficulties. But it brought results just the same and awakened interest in the needs and work of the Red Cross.

The chief address at the Flora meeting was made by Mr. Burleigh. He has given several effective talks since the nation was stirred by the war, but surpassed himself on Sunday, with a truly eloquent appeal that will long be remembered by all who heard it.

Unlimited credit is due to Mrs. J. L. Browning for her general supervision of the dinners given by the women of Enterprise during the week. With her tact and excellent management, she kept all interests working systematically, efficiently and economically, and the dinners and luncheons were uniformly beautiful and attractive. Each organization and committee performed its part in all the women's activities, and the results justified their efforts.

The women had the cordial support not only of the families of the town, but of the merchants. At some stores they were told they could have anything they needed for the dinners, and there would be no charge. No effort ever had more unanimous support of the community.

The Fourth at Cove.

Cove, Oregon, July 3.—(Special)—Speaking of recruits, Cove with a population of 433 has already sent 25 men to the front. The following have already enlisted: T. Williams, H. Hedy, E. Landers, W. Malone, L. Millman, W. White, G. Duffey, R. Hancock, L. Motley, T. Jones, A. Smith, B. Tracy, J. Conley, W. Knutson, C. Kelly, W. Motley, C. DeHass, Dr. A. C. McCown, G. E. Barker, R. Baxter, H. VanVlack, A. Hayes, B. Greenough. These men have actually enlisted since the war began. Furthermore on July 4th Cove will raise the tallest flagpole in Eastern Oregon. While motoring around on the Fourth it might be enjoyable to just pay Cove a visit. They are just going to gather to commemorate the birth of their nation. It might be surprising to you to see what a real patriotic little village can do.

Service on local military exemption boards is compulsory.

Mt. Emily News

Mt. Emily, July 2.—(Special)—Among those who went to the top of Mt. Emily yesterday on horseback were Mrs. Herbert Pattison, Mrs. Heine Roskamp and Miss Elice Newquist. They also took the trouble to view the waterfall below the Blumenstein cabin and are among the very few women who ever saw this particular beauty spot while the water was leaping over the rugged rocks. These ladies will in the future probably beware of an unloaded kodak as they would of a loaded gun and will also be cautious about taking advice about trails, etc., from strangers. They report much snow on and near the summit and brought back a little of it to prove to their friends that they had been there even though they had no pictures to prove it. As far as your correspondent is aware they were the first women to reach the summit and certainly the first to go to the waterfall this year. They report having had a fine time and will likely repeat the trip before long.
