NEW OFFICERS WILL ALL BE GENTLEMEN

New York, July 18.—(Special)—When our new crop of lieutenants leave Plattsburg and other officers' training camps to take up their assignments with the national army, they will be "officers and gentlemen" in the best sense of that classic phrase. And the second half of the phrase is held as important as the first in the United States army. There has been much marveling on the part of the public at the number of would-be officers who have been weeded out after two or three weeks' trial in camp. There is a rosy story behind many a dismissal of a young fellow with every indication of being good physical and mental material. One was told the other day at a club here by a young training-camp officer on leave.

There was a young man in his company who had shown first-grade qualities. He was a fine physical specimen, a natural executive and leader, and had done hard, faithful and efficient work. One day some ladies were watching the drill. As this man's file came past the drill sergeant overheard him make a joking remark about the lady visitors that was obscene in its nature. He was hauled before the commandant at the close of drill. Others who overheard the remark were called as witnesses. He was dishonorably discharged from camp on the ground that a man who could make such a remark about a woman was not a gentleman and so unfit to be an American officer.

He might make an ideal colonel of a Prussian regiment assigned to Belgian raid duty, but he won't do to command Uncle Sam's "Teddie" in France.

"We don't keep a man, either, who expresses the slightest wish to go," said the officer. "No one is wanted who isn't consumed with enthusiasm and bent on making the highest mark of efficiency."

Farms For Sale

I have several small and medium sized farms for sale that will bear investigation.

One farm the owner will consider a part or possibly all in exchange for La Grande City property.

I have a splendid rooming and boarding house property that is especially well located for this purpose which the owner will consider taking a small home as first payment and will give very easy terms and a low rate of interest on the balance.
