Stomach and Liver Troubles
 No end of misery and actual suffering is caused by disorders of the stomach and liver, and may be avoided by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

Alicel News Notes

Alicel, Or., Aug. 9.—(Special)—The Alicel Queen Esther girls wish to thank the people who helped them at the ice cream social Saturday evening. The proceeds of the evening amounted to $18.05.
 John Brown arrived at the home of his parents Thursday. Mr. Brown has a ranch in Idaho but says that nearly all the dry land crops are burned so that little profit will be made from them. Mr. Brown was accompanied by Arthur Verdner and they will remain until after harvest.
 Mrs. M. E. Leedom left Friday evening for Seattle to visit her daughter Mrs. L. F. Lundy. Mrs. Leedom will stop in Alicel again on her way back to Omaha.
 Giles Van Housen and Charles Smith went on a fishing trip last week.
 Sam Ruckman, who has been very ill, is recovering some.
 R. C. Plass returned from visiting his sons, Giles and Burritt Plass, of Wallowa, last week.
 W. J. Case and family made a trip to the mountains Sunday.
 Rev. H. J. Richards and John Speckhart made a trip to La Grande Saturday.
 Vance Randall and wife have been visiting at the home of E. F. Brown the past few days.
 Miss Gladys Van Housen, of Island City spent Sunday at the home of her parents. Miss Van Housen and Hazel Welch plan to leave for the coast soon.
 L. F. Wright and family have been huckleberrying the past few days.
 Burt Brown and Joe Keown, of Imbler, went huckleberrying Sunday and report the berries "just right."
 Mrs. C. C. Welch has a sister and a niece, from Missouri visiting with her at present.

... Ask Anyone Who Has Used It
 There are families who always aim to keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house for use in case it is needed, and find that it is not only a good investment but saves them no end of suffering. As to its reliability, ask anyone who has used it.

Palmer Valley

Palmer Junction, Or. Aug. 9.—(Special)—Miss Mildred Schnore, of Elgin, has been employed to teach the autumn term of school in District 71 (Cabin Creek District) which began August 6.
 The weather is still hot and dry and the crop will be short. The range is holding up well, however.
 There was a light frost the morning of July 29th that injured some of the more tender vegetables, but was not so disastrous as the one a year ago.
 B. F. Horrell and John Young have the contract for 10,000 hewn ties for use in the Looking Glass spur of the Grande Ronde Lumber company. William Eckstine does the "banking out."

Heavy trains of logs are daily moving off the Joseph branch. Mrs. Fred Wells is visiting relatives in Grande Ronde valley. The fellow who kindles a fire in this locality now is mighty apt to make the acquaintance of a fire warden soon afterward.

WAR NO BAR TO CANADIAN DEVELOPMENT PLANS

LETTING WATER INTO SMALL TRACT IN IRRIGATION BLOCK

ON IRRIGATION CANAL

Canada has commandeered all her forces—military, industrial and agricultural—in a brave effort to do her utmost to help win the war. Men are going out from all walks of life to take places on the fighting line. New hands must be trained to take up the work laid down. It means that those left behind must keep affairs as near normal as possible. They are doing this not only for the present day with its unusual demands, but are wisely looking forward to the after-war days and the problems that must be met and solved in re-assimilating Canada's overseas forces and in intelligently distributing the great influx of immigrants that will turn to Canada as a land of Promise when it is possible for hem to leave war-scarred, almost hopelessly devastated Europe.

The men who are giving their best thought to the solution of this coming problem have come to the conclusion that a great portion of these people must go onto the land, must become farmers, must be dissuaded from settling in cities and forming surpluses there. Lord Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway made the initial move when he announced that he would give 1,000 "ready-made farms" to veterans. Government heads railway officials, local associations and public spirited individuals are working to prepare for the after-war stream of humanity.

Dry farming is successful in all the western provinces and many a farmer has won a fortune thereby, but the magic of irrigation brings greater wealth with less effort and irrigation is the theme that occupies the attention of everyone interested in the development of western Canada. There are government projects, great railway schemes, local association and individual plans for the digging of precious water to every furrow of the most out-of-the-way farm.

The western Canada irrigation association is one of the most active agents for the furthering of irrigation farming. With Honorable W. R. Motherwell Saskatchewan's Minister of Agriculture as its active president assisted by experts and farmers it is doing the work of incalculable good. It is to hold its eleventh Annual Convention Aug. 1-3 at Maple Creek, Saskatchewan. Anyone, be he farmer or would-be farmer, American or Canadian, is welcome to attend the meeting or to appeal to the association for information at other times. A splendid program has been prepared, the speakers being men who are authorities on the subject. They will present, and discussions, open to all, will be in order. Not only do the farmers hear the subjects well treated from the expert standpoint but they may ask him to solve the personal problems each has encountered.

Maple Creek, the scene of the coming convention, is an example of what irrigation does for a community.

In 1888 the Canadian Pacific came through and with it the first families of Maple Creek. These early settlers brought a few cattle that soon grew into mighty herds that roamed the unfenced prairies. Saskatchewan at that time was only a grazing country and it was not until 1905 that farming made headway. Simple irrigation schemes brought water from the Cypress Hills and soon prairie grasses were supplanted by fields of grain, and the herds were moved on to allow the reapers plenty of room. Today there are 190 irrigation schemes in operation, and the 1916 grain crop market at Maple Creek amounted to $2,500,000.
