Mt. Emily News

Mt. Emily, Aug. 8—(Special)—Much dry pole wood is being hauled from near the Summit of Mt. Emily. Eight or ten teams are doing all they can to avert a possible fuel famine next winter. They will easily average a cord and a half to the load at a maximum price of $8.00 a cord in town. This makes nearly $100.00 worth of wood that reaches La Grande daily from this section.

The big drive on the huckleberries has now started. Most pickers report poor success. The cool nights have kept the berries back and the recent frost damaged them in places. One party of campers were out picking berries when a cow invaded their tent and upset things as only a cow can. No battlefield could show greater disorder and distinction than the campers found when they returned. The proverbial bull in a china shop could not do any worse. The feelings and sentiments of the campers can be better imagined than described.

We still need rain to lay the dust in the road. As prayers and all other means have brought forth nothing but a weak bluff or two, your correspondent has decided to cut his hay. This works like a charm about eight times out of ten.

Mrs. J. E. Fulkerson and children have returned to town and our efficient fire wardens will have to "batch" now. We hated to see them leave but life on the very top of Mt. Emily is at times a little too strenuous for women and little children.

The high cost of living and the still higher cost of the "highest" living has been noticed up here and has compelled your correspondent to the following poetic thoughts.

We used to spell it—well,
So it would rhyme just right with spell;
But now it's written H. C. L.

Summer Complaint

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unusual looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."

EXEMPTIONS TO BE PUBLISHED

Portland Or., Aug. 10.—(Special)—All the light that publicity can give is to be turned on applications for exemption or discharge from military service under the draft.

The United States government believes a man's neighbors can sometimes supply some interesting information as to the real motive behind an application for exemption or discharge. So the government is taking steps to see that the neighbors, and the public generally, have every opportunity to find out, through the newspapers, what men have asked exemption, and the reasons they have assigned for asking it.

To insure the necessary publicity, all local exemption boards, by direction of the Provost Marshal General at Washington, have received positive instructions from the Adjutant General at Portland immediately to make available to the press the names of all persons claiming exemption or discharge, and the grounds on which such claims are based.

If any person has information contrary to the facts as alleged by the claimant, the government representative—who usually is the county attorney—will investigate.

If he finds the claimant has wrongly stated the facts, the government representative will inform the local board and, if necessary, carry the case on appeal to the district board.

Thus the interests of other men who would be called up for service ahead of their proper time if exemptions were granted to men ahead of them not entitled to exemption, will be protected.

In explaining the reason for making this order to local boards, the Provost Marshal General said, in part:

"The names of all registered men are on a list arranged in the order in which they will be called for military service. Wherever any registered person imposes upon a local board and improperly secures a certificate of exemption or discharge, he advances the time of call of all other uncalled persons on the list.

"For this reason every registered person and, to some extent, every person in the community is more or less directly interested in seeing that the true facts are brought to the attention of the government."

New Liberty Loan.

New York, Aug. 10—(Special)—Preparations for the floating of the second liberty loan to be offered to the public some time early in the Fall were begun here yesterday by the general loan committee of the second Federal reserve district.

Although the date the second loan will be offered to the public and the rate of interest it will bear have not been definitely decided upon, it was said it would be about September 15, and not October 15, as at first reported.

Good news for the thirsty! Here's a beverage that not only will taste good while you are drinking it, but that will leave the mouth tasting as fresh as a May morning. One, too, that has that very desirable quality of having no heating after-effects.

As a between-meals drink it has the happy faculty of always reaching that dry spot that needs irrigation. With meals, it is an ideal beverage. Not only does its flavor make it go perfectly with food, but its tang adds zest to your enjoyment of a meal—hot or cold.
