

Good Cooks Are Household Chemists

Scientific cookery demands as reliable materials and as scientific manipulation as scientific chemistry.

The skill of the best cooks often comes to naught because they are deceived in the quality of materials used. Let us furnish and then results will be certain. We buy carefully and what we supply in the way of kitchen drugs may be relied on.

trade by Pattison Brothers. Wood Sawing contest for Ladies: Mrs. Cora Clark, $2.50 in trade by La Grande Meat Co. Pie Eating contest, Boys: Ira Swart, $2.50 cash by Joe Carr. La Grande Employees Race Only. 100 yard dash: F. Crippen, $5.00 in trade by Andrews' Brothers.

About four thirty the band and most of the crowd went to the dance hall where dancing was had until about six o'clock. Prizes for dancing were awarded as follows:

Prize Waltz: First Mr. and Miss Almstead of Enterprise, $5.00; Second Mr. and Mrs. Kivette, $3.00; Third Mr. Conkey and Miss Corbett, $1.00.

Prize Two-step: First, Miss Muriel Moss and Mr. J. T. Smith, $5.00 Second, Miss Gray and M. Mitchell, $3.00; Third, S. C. Burley and Miss Ainsworth, $1.00.

Toward evening many again had lunch, a number going down to the edge of the Lake to watch the swimming.

A little after four o'clock they started taking the crowd back to the depot, enough having gone down by 6:30 to permit the leaving of the first train for La Grande, which arrived here about eleven o'clock.

Just about six o'clock a thunder shower came up, lasting about a half an hour, and soaking quite a number of people. It caught a party of young folks who were crossing the Lake in a motor boat, and they rather resembled a bunch of drowned rats when they reached the depot.

At 9:30 the last auto load of people had reached the depot from the Lake and the second train pulled out for La Grande, arriving here at 2:10 Sunday morning.

Everyone reports a glorious time, the only regret being that they could not stay longer to more fully enjoy the scenic wonders of the Lake and the grandeur of the mountains.

"Carrying It Home" Popular.—Portland, Ore., Aug. 20.—(United Press)—It's the popular—even the fashionable—thing for Mrs. Hi Society to carry home her groceries today. More than that, it's the patriotic thing to do.

Portland stores, backed by the state defense council, have started a movement to induce housewives to carry home their smaller purchases. As the first step in this direction, the merchants today put into practice the one-delivery-a-day system, which will free a large number of men for other work.

La Jerz Makes the Smartest Bath Togs

OVER black silk tights is worn this one piece, almost a coat effect in its trimness, of maroon colored lightweight wool jersey. But the picturequeness lies in the bath cloak of smoke gray jersey faced back with maroon shantung bordered with white. All three colors appear in the tasseled belt.

Stunning evening dresses are being made of dotted net. Each dot is embroidered in a color. Lace collar and cuffs are the telling details on a silk sweater. ANNA MAY.
