The Kirschbaum Store

Kirschbaum Clothes $15, $20, $25

Can you show me the Kirschbaum Clothes? I know what Kirschbaum means.

In Kirschbaum Clothes at $15, $16.50, $20, $22.50, and $25, I know I have as good style as I can get anywhere at the price.

I know these clothes fit.

I know I've paid the same price as every other Kirschbaum purchaser, $15, $16.50, $20, $22.50 and $25. I know the prices are the same in any part of the country. I have a guarantee that means another suit if not satisfied. I have a label in my coat that I can't lose even if I do lose my guarantee.

This is the Kirschbaum store.

GEORGE BEBAN IN "A ROADSIDE IMPRESARIO" TODAY AND TOMORROW

(Reviewed by Edward Weitzel in Moving Picture World.)

The entertaining qualities of "A Roadside Impresario", a five-reel Palas photoplay written and starred in by George Beban, are equal to any of the author-actor's previous efforts. He is assisted by a trained bear who if the truth were told, divides honors with his friend and manager.

Everything connected with the doings of the wandering Italian and his four-footed companion is the cause of huge enjoyment. The episode where Bruno escapes from his master and investigates a number of beehives in search of honey while the inhabitants are at home is among the most amusing moments ever put into a moving picture. For his exploit Bruno is locked up in jail and his master sets about, in great excitement, to earn the one hundred dollars necessary to secure the bear's release.

There is a serious motive connected with the heroine of the story, who turns out to be the daughter of the Italian. Although a familiar device for exciting sympathy, it is handled skillfully and acted with fine feeling

Meals To Be Good At Camp; Following Is Sample Menu

BY GEORGE MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, Aug. 30.—Having outlined in the two foregoing stories some of the less pleasant features you may encounter at your cantonment camp dining hall this fall, here goes for some pleasant news.

No hard tack or embalmed beef for yours.

You'll get the best of everything and plenty of it three times a day.

To prove it, here's the sample ten day menu to be used as a general guide in the preparation of your meals at the training camps. It will be varied from this according to the fresh fruits and vegetables available in the particular part of the country your camp is located.

First Day (Sunday)—Breakfast: Cantaloupes, 1-2 each; oatmeal, sugar, milk, fried pork sausage, hot biscuits, coffee. Dinner—Fresh vegetable soup, croutons (diced bread toasted); veal a la creole, boiled rice, string beans (fresh), lettuce salad, ice cream, cake, bread, ice water. Supper—(Cold)—Potato salad, bread, jam, iced tea.

Second Day—Breakfast—Corn flakes, sugar, milk; beef stew, boiled potatoes; toast, bread, coffee. Dinner—Boiled beef, with dumplings; spinach, young beets, pickles, apple and peach pie, iced tea, bread. Supper—Beefsteak, breaded; scalloped potatoes, hot Parker House rolls, iced tea.

Third Day—Breakfast—Stewed prunes, oatmeal, sugar and milk, hamburger steak, baked potatoes, bread, toast. Dinner—Rice and tomato soup, croutons, boiled bacon and cabbage, macaroni with cheese, lettuce and radishes or young onions, brown Betty with raisins or currants, caramel sauce, hot corn bread, iced tea. Supper—Hot rolls, butter, jam, iced tea.

Fourth Day—Breakfast—Cantaloupes, corn flakes, sugar and milk, fried liver and bacon, fried onions, toast, bread, coffee. Dinner—Beef a la mode, boiled potatoes, creamed cauliflower, pickles, tapioca pudding, vanilla sauce, iced tea, bread. Supper—Chili-Con-Carne, hot biscuits, stewed peaches, iced tea.

Fifth Day—Breakfast—Milk toast fresh apple sauce, beefsteak and onions, baked potatoes, bread, coffee. Dinner—Cream of potato soup, croutons, beef pot pie, boiled potatoes, boiled beets, lettuce salad, cottage pudding, chocolate sauce, iced tea, bread. Supper—Fried ham, hot Parker House rolls, apple sauce, iced tea.

Sixth Day—Breakfast—Oatmeal, sugar and milk, fried pork sausage, lyonnaise potatoes, bread, toast, coffee. Dinner—Vegetable soup, croutons, soft roast beef, mashed potatoes, stewed corn, piccalilli, lemon ice spiced cake, bread, ice water. Supper—Hot tea buns, jam, butter, iced tea.

Seventh Day—Breakfast—Bananas, corn flakes, sugar and milk, beef stew, baked potatoes, toast, bread, coffee. Dinner—Roast ribs of beef, browned potatoes, spaghetti Italian style, pickles, apple dumplings, plain sauce, bread, ice water. Supper—Veal cutlets, breaded, hot biscuits, jelly or jam, iced tea.

WOMEN HELP MINE MEN IN STRIKE

Form Auxiliary to Union and Are Taking Active Interest In Men

Butte, Mont., Aug. 31.—(United Press)—Even the women are helping the striking members of the Metal Mine Workers' union here today. They have organized an auxiliary to the union, and, according to the strike leaders, are active in the interests of the men.

"When the women start to fight they make a man ashamed of himself by their whole-hearted, self-sacrificing efforts. More power to them," observed the miners' little publication the Strike Bulletin.

The Metal Mine Workers' union is independent of all other labor organizations and the women are aiding the union in securing money.

and excellent art by Mr. Beban. The incident of a blackguardly newspaper editor's attempt to snapshot the juvenile hero in a compromising position is not so happy.

George Beban's reputation as an actor of Italian character parts is an enviable one, and he has honestly earned his artistic standing.

The production, under Donald Crisp, is of a high order. Jose Melville, Julia Faye, Harry De Vere, Harrison Ford, Fred Huntley, W. A. Carroll and Adele Farrington complete an admirable cast.

This Paramount picture will be shown at the Arcade Theatre today and tomorrow.

On the same program will be another of those funny Victor Moore comedies. This one is called "The Sleep Walker" and promises to be better than any he has been seen in before.

S. P. Orders 65 Engines.

San Francisco, Aug. 31.—(Special)—Sixty-five new locomotives, costing over two and a half million dollars, are on order for the Pacific system lines of the Southern Pacific according to an announcement by Wm. Sproule, president of the company, who returned recently from New York and other eastern cities. Ten of the locomotives are to be built at the company's shops. This latest order brings the total expenditures for new equipment by the Southern Pacific and Pacific Fruit Express of which it is half owner, to twenty-four and a half million dollars.

MONTANA EDITORS TO MEET OCTOBER 2-3-4

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 31.—(United Press)—The annual meeting of the Montana State Press association will be held here October 2, 3 and 4. J. A. Gilluly, of the Fergus County Argus, is the president of the association.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM CAMP FREMONT

Camp Fremont, Menlo Park, Cal., Aug. 31.—(United Press) Privates Smothers and Litchgann, of company E, Third Oregon, were trotting along at quick step, lugging a heavy plank. Several of Smothers' relatives dropped into the camp.

"I'm sorry to see you being punished," said one of them—a kindly old lady. "I see by the rules that this is the way they punish you boys, making you carry heavy planks."

Smothers paused, took a new hold of the plank and declared, "Don't you think it. Poor old Litchgann is in bad, and the sergeant loaded this stick on him. I'm just helping him carry it."

And with that the two Oregon soldiers swung down the company street with their load.
