CAMP LEWIS POSTOFFICE IS BUSY PLACE.

CAMP LEWIS, American Lake, Wash., Sept. 7.—The camp postoffice is probably the busiest place in this part of the state of Washington.

The very first thought of every man who reaches the camp is to write home—and friends at home write back.

"We know whenever a new detachment arrives and where it comes from," Herbert F. Gambell, in charge of the camp postoffice, said today, "because we immediately get a pile of mail all directed to one place. "They get lots of letters, too, and the incoming mail is heavier than the outgoing, but that seems to be because there are so many packages in it. All their folks must be sending them

BASEBALL IN MINORS SLIPPING FAST.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Since it was pointed out by the United Press some time ago that the minor leagues were fast approaching the point where they might have to close their gates, five minors have thrown up the sponge, several have lopped off several weeks from their schedules, and at least two circuits have fallen into the scheme of creating interest through two pennant campaigns in one Summer. This state of affairs is gradually growing worse and worse. The time for actual participation in the war by American troops is growing so near that the baseball fans have turned their eyes to the bulletin boards, anxiously scanning them for news of some friend or relative in France. The Pacific Coast League, it was supposed, would be one of the last to cry for quarter, but crowds even in that high-speed minor organization are growing smaller. Interest in San Francisco, reports have it, has so died out that managers have begun to complain. A San Francisco writer recently declared he had been told that several times crowds were so poor visiting managers were surprised. The end is at hand for the smaller organizations and if conditions continue in this fashion the AA circuits stand in line for some hard doses. The old International League always seem just able to keep ahead of the wolf. It weathered the Federal League storm which wrecked one of its most powerful clubs overnight, stood the ravages of tough weather last Spring until everyone thought it must lay down and die, and now is bravely facing next year with no sign of rolling over. The International, having two clubs in Canada, where war conditions have been felt for more than three years, is taking the war business a little less seriously than some of the other leagues which will be bucking it for the first time. Toronto has developed into one of the best minor league cities in the hemisphere and Montreal has been traveling along at the same old steady pace.

Ed Barrow declared a short time ago that it was a foregone conclusion baseball would continue in his circuit next year—for a time at least—unless concerted action in all leagues stopped the game flat in its tracks. Barrow is the most optimistic cuss in baseball. His nerve carried the league through the old obstacles. It may be Barrow who shows the way for the big minors to weather the war storm.

Great Faith in Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy" was used by my father about a year ago when he had diarrhoea. It relieved him immediately and by taking three doses he was absolutely cured. He has great faith in this remedy," writes Mrs. W. H. Williams, Stanley, N. Y.

"Where There's A Will"

the old proverb tells us, "there's a way."

This saying has no better exemplification than in the saving of money.

All that is necessary is determination in making the start and strength of purpose in regularly saving some part of the daily, weekly or monthly earnings. Thus is the key-stone of financial success securely laid.
