"MARY HAS LITTLE LAMB" NOW

Chicago (Special) — "Mary Has a Little Lamb" instead of "Mary Had" one is the stated purpose of the National Sheep and Wool Bureau, which has called the Great Lakes Wool Convention in Chicago, Sept. 11 and 12.

State Councils of Defense will offer prizes for the best version of the old nursery rhyme about Mary and her lamb. Some of these versions will be read at the Chicago Convention, to which the western sheepmen have been particularly invited. In letters to the State Councils the Sheep and Wool Bureau said:

1—An acute wool famine is imminent.
2—Dog raids have discouraged farm flocks of sheep.
3—Enlistment in sheep raising is profitable and patriotic.
4—Warm clothing is as important as food."

Makes Clubbing Arrangement With

The Oregon Farmer

Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measures Oregon farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE OREGON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE OREGON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE OREGON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Oregon agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE OREGON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Oregon. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.

PRESERVE

Canning Peaches and Apricots

According to Recipe of Ida Cogswell Bailey Allen, Editor "Housewives Forum," of "Pictorial Review," furnished by National Commercial Gas Association.

then into pe, but not over ripe fruit, and plunge it into boiling water for 2 minutes and select ricold water. Remove the skins and pits. To save jars the fruit should be sliced. Pack at once into clean jars. Pour over boiling syrup made by boiling together two and one-half cupfuls of sugar and three quarts of water for 10 minutes. Next, adjust the rubbers, which should be new, and of rubber—not a substitute, place the cover on the jars and adjust, but do not fasten the clamps. If screw-top jars are used, partly screw on the cover; place a wash-boiler over the burners of the gas or electric stove, put the rack in the bottom and set in the jars. Cover the tops with warm water, fully an inch. If not quite covered loss of liquid is liable to result, however, the contents will not spoil. If the covers are adjusted too loosely there is also liable to be loss of liquid. Note carefully when the water begins to boil hard, or to "jump," then if gas is being used for fuel, reduce the flame, or if electricity, turn the switches to medium, but keep boiling rapidly for 16 minutes. Remove from the water and adjust the tops at once. Do not take off covers under any circumstances.

The space inside contains no germs, there can be no spoilage. Invert the jars on a cloth and let stand several hours to test. If there is any leakage, remove the caps and rubbers, put on new rubbers and reboil for 10 minutes. If convenient, wrap each jar in paper to prevent bleaching and store in a dark, dry place.
