The Observer carrier boys are instructed to put the papers on the porches. If the carrier does not do this, misses you, or neglects getting the paper to you on time, kindly phone The Observer, as this is the only way we can determine whether or not the carriers are following instructions. Phone Main 37 before 7:30 o'clock and a paper will be sent you by special messenger if the carrier has missed you.

We wonder if the average man could pass an examination on what the war is about and who caused it.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

"He is the rich man who can avail himself of other men's faculties. He is the richest man who knows how to draw a benefit from the labors of the greatest number of men."—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

WHY NOT?

A Jackson County farmer borrowed $1896.60 from the Federal Farm Loan Association to buy an automobile. The directors of the farm loan association knew he wanted to borrow the money and approved of it. The fact is a farmer needs an automobile in his business. It will save him time and money.

FACTS ARE COMING OUT.

General Soukhomlinoff is a Russian general who is on trial for treason. Like all men who have fallen since Adam, he blames his desire for German gold and his betrayal of his country upon the fact that he had an expensive wife. But that is neither here nor there. His court-martial is bringing out some of the inside history of the war. It develops:

- 1.—Before war broke out, the Russian General Staff received reports that Germany was secretly mobilizing.
- 2.—On the strength of this an order for the mobilization of the Russian army was issued by the Czar.
- 3.—The Czar, on the strength of Germany's professed eagerness for peace, ordered it canceled.
- 4.—General Januschkevitch, chief of the Russian General Staff, disregarded the cancellation order.
- 5.—The Russian Ambassador at Berlin cabled that German mobilization was in progress.
- 6.—The Czar thanked General J. for disregarding his order. Russia continued to mobilize as did Germany. The war was on.

If Germany had desired peace, why did it mobilize its vast armies against nations unprepared for war?

FOOD CONVERSATION.

Food conservation is just "food conservation" with lots of people, especially some rich in the metropolis. They like to talk about it and tell poor people what to do, to talk and tell how hard it is "to arouse the lower classes" to a sense of their obligation and their duty to the country. The

Is Your Money Supporting the Government?

At this critical period in our history our manufacturers are offering their mills, and our young men are offering their services to the United States Government.

Would you like to do your share and help by putting your money where it will support the new Federal Reserve Banking System, which the Government has established to stand back of our commerce, industry and agriculture?

You can do this by opening an account with us, as part of every dollar so deposited goes directly into the new system, where it will always be ready for you when wanted.

other day a young heiress made up her mind to marry a young man. Before the wedding there was a great round of gaieties and at each function, including the wedding, food was consumed in great quantities by the flappers, the sub-debutantes, the debutantes, the floaters, the tea-pourers, the young and old married couples, the old maids and old bachelors, as well as the young fellows and other hangers on. Here is a list of the functions:

For the Bride: One luncheon at private residence; one luncheon by girl friend; one luncheon at golf club; another dinner-dance at golf club.

For the Bridegroom: Nothing.

For both: One dinner at Golf Club; one dinner at University Club; one dinner-dance; one dinner at private residence; one picnic-supper at Automobile Club.

For the Bride's Mother-in-Law: One tea; another tea; dinner party by the bride's ma; dinner party by friend of the bride; one bridge luncheon.

And so it went. No doubt the poor little bride was all tired out with luncheons, and dinners, trying on her new gowns, rehearsing for the wedding, autoing and golfing, dancing and eating, and worrying about Mr. Hoover and food conservation.

And bacon, how tempting it is, broiled crisp over the glowing coals of a camp fire.

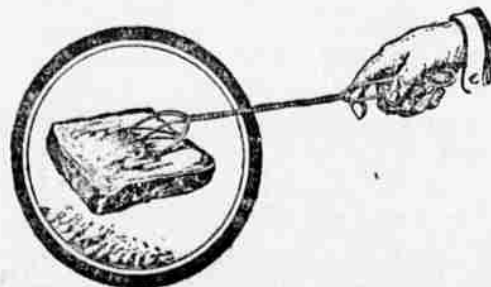

It's toasted—that's what brings out the very delicious flavor. You wouldn't like it raw.

Apply the same idea to the famous Lucky Strike cigarette. They have delicious flavor, because the Burley tobacco
