MARINES HAVE SOME "GET UP" TO THEM

Washington, Sept. 24—What is believed to have been a record in "lashing" and "stowing" was made by the U. S. Marines serving on board a superdreadnaught of the Atlantic fleet recently, according to reports received here today.

When the call, "up all hammocks," was sounded shortly after midnight the sea-soldiers were sleeping in their hammocks. In just five minutes and twelve seconds they "turned out," "lashed and stowed" their hammocks in the nettings, dressed themselves and were at attention on the quarter-deck ready for any duty which might have been required of them.

APPEAL SENT TO CONGRESSMAN IS WASTE OF TIME

LETTERS ASKING FOR RECONSIDERATION RETURNED TO SENDERS

FEW CASES MAY BE TAKEN TO PRESIDENT

No Claims of Grounds of Dependency Can be Appealed to Chief Executive Under any Circumstances.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 24—It is only a waste of postage, letter paper and time for a man whose claim for exemption from the draft on industrial grounds has been denied by his district exemption board, or for any of his relatives or friends, to write to his Senator, or his Congressman, or the Provost Marshal General, or the President of the United States, trying to have the ruling of the board reversed.

These letters will do no good whatsoever. They will not even be considered, but will be returned to the sender. If a man having real grounds for appeal wishes to prejudice his case beforehand, the surest way for him to do it is to write to his Senator, or Representative, or to some official in Washington to use his "influence" toward fixing up the exemption.

There is just one procedure whereby an appeal may be taken to the President from the ruling of a district board. These are cases over board itself, in the manner prescribed by official regulations.

It must be remembered, however, that only one class of cases can be appealed to the President from the district board. These are cases ever which the district board has original jurisdiction; that is to say, cases that originate before the district board, and not with one of the local county exemption boards.

The only case over which district boards have original jurisdiction are those involving claims for exemption on the ground of employment in a necessary industry, including agriculture.

No claim for exemption on the ground of dependency can be appealed to the President under any circumstances. The decision of the district board in such cases, on which it sits as an appellate board, is final. There is no further appeal.

The following summary of regulations made by the President to govern procedure in all cases appealed to him, has been issued by the Provost Marshal General at Washington, with the request that it be given the fullest publicity.

1—By the regulations of the President governing appeals from the action of district boards, the claim of appeal must be filed with the district board and cannot be received if sent direct to the President, the Provost Marshal General, members of Congress, or to any other place than to the district board itself.

2—Papers, evidence, and affidavits not considered by the district board cannot be considered on appeal from the district board.

3—The only cases in which there is an appeal to the President are cases in which claim for discharge on the ground of engagement in agriculture or industry has been made in the district board. There is no appeal to the President from the action of the local board in dependency or other cases whose determination is within the jurisdiction of the local board.

4—All attempts to appeal cases other than those involving the decision of the district board on agriculture or industrial exemptions from whatever source received; all affidavits, letters, arguments, evidence, papers or other matter not considered by the district board, all appeals made to the President direct, or sent to any other official or person in Washington, will have to be returned to the sender.

People Speak Well of Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I have been selling Chamberlain's Tablets for about two years and hear such good reports from my customers that I concluded to give them a trial myself, and can say that I do not believe there is another preparation of the kind equal to them," writes G.
