Camp Lewis Notes

Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 2.—Get alive. If Camp Lewis has a slogan that's it. Husky young officers from the Presidio yell it at their squads. The men themselves use the expression. The slogan is having its effect on the men at drill—it's putting ginger into their movements.

Officers who have been in the Regular Army for years are surprised at the progress shown by the men in drilling. The men are inspected regularly and the officers find little to criticize.

A military ball last night formally opened the $30,000 National dancing pavilion. Hundreds from Tacoma attended.

A colored regiment will be trained here, according to instructions received from the War Department. No colored drafted men were received here in the first or second quotas. It is believed they will come in the last 15 per cent of the quota.

Bremerton, Wash., Oct. 2.—The big Hill liners, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific, are at the Puget Sound Navyyard here today being converted into troop transports. The ships are ideal for this purpose, and will each accommodate over 3,000 men when changes have been completed. All the fittings are being taken out of the ships and stored. After the war they will be put back in the ships and the vessels turned back to the owners. Three thousand bunks will be built on the main decks of the ships.

The Government, it is reported here, will spend $1,000,000 in transforming the ships.

The Whole Neighborhood Knows. Mrs. Ann Pelzer, 2526 Jefferson St., So. Omaha, Neb., writes: "I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar as a sure cure for coughs and colds. It cured my daughter of a bad cold. My neighbor, Mrs. Benson, cured herself and her whole family with Foley's Honey and Tar, and everyone in our neighborhood speaks highly of it." This reliable family remedy masters croup. It clears the air passages and eases the gasping, strangling fight for breath. Sold Everywhere.—Adv.

SOLDIERS WILL PLAY AGAINST W. S. C. ELEVEN.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 2.—The first big game in which a Camp Lewis football team will play will probably be staged in the stadium here October 13 between the 362d Infantry officers' team and the Washington State College eleven.

Letters From The Front

The following letter was received by Austin Martin from his brother Arthur, who is with the hospital corps at Long Island: Hemstead, N. Y., Sept. 23, 1917.

Dear Brother: I write home so often that I don't have much to write, but I will write to you about camp and the parade review today.

Every Company in camp have their tents and etc. arranged alike. I will tell you how it is like a city of tents. Say from home to I. A. Bingham's or about seven blocks, was the officers' tents (two rows) about five for each Company and generally room between each set of tents for a car or wagon to go through. In front of this is a street then a row of kitchens. A kitchen is about twenty-five by forty feet all screen. A door in each and on the front two windows. At the bottom of these windows is a shelf which runs full length. Through these windows is where the "grub" is dished out to us. In front of this row of kitchens is another street. Then at right angles to this street row of tents, you might say the kitchens are in this row, too then the kitchen supply tent, officers' mess tent, dining tent (we have tables now) then seven bunk tents, then the large supply tent, and then away back the La Trena or toilet, between two toilets and a little closer to the tents is the shower bath house (one for two companies.)

The La Trena and bath houses have wooden roofs and burlap sides. In a tent we have twelve cots, six in a row on each side with feet to the center and heads to the outside walls. Through the day we all roll up the walls and twice a week furl the tents, that is roll them tight around the poles after tying the guy ropes from the little fly on top to keep the tent from falling. This furling is to keep things dry in the tents.

Last Saturday for inspection we set our beds out in front of the tents in nice uniform, straight rows and furred the tents. We have a straw tick on our cots. We folded our three blankets and shelter half (every day) and laid them at the head of the bed. The shelter half of the pup tents we use when out on a hike. Our company has never used them yet. Two fellows put in together and make a tent for themselves.

On this pile of bedding we laid our over coat (left) and raincoat right hand side. From the overcoat towards the foot of the bed comes extra coat pants, shirt (all kahl). From raincoat, undershirt, mess kit and cup, drawers, towel, handkerchief and white socks at the foot of the bed; on the ground shoes and barracks bag (a big blue denim bag with draw ropes in the top), (a clothes bag). Then while inspection took place we stood at the foot of our bed in full uniform with first aid belts and grub baskets, canteen, etc., on. Enough for the inspection. Between our row of tents and the next is a space about thirty feet wide called the Company street. This space and all land occupied by our Company is known as Oregon, Nebraska, New Jersey, Colorado, or wherever the Company is from. If I go to visit a man in a Georgia Company I have made a trip to Georgia, etc.

I got a letter from mother today with grandma's letter in it. Tell mother to send the names of her Ohio cousins so I can look for them.

Instead of getting 24-hour passes yesterday we had to get in at 11 o'clock p. m. We got up at 5:30 this morning instead of 6:30 which is Sunday get up time.

At 7:30 we were called out to be reviewed by Secretary of War Baker, our Company was the last in line. We marched away, then halted awhile. All sanitary men lined on both sides of camp, and the Secretary came by in an auto and took a look at us.

We all (32,000) later marched past the review stand—in other words the Secretary standing up in an auto—there was a large crowd out to see the parade. We marched in a column of platoons, that is sixteen men besides a sergeant as guide. In front of each platoon was a commissioned officer, lieutenant—in our case, a captain.

Sergeants and corporals are non-commissioned officers. Others are commissioned officers.

Being last in line we didn't get past the review stand till about 11:45 a long dusty time on the way.

Austin, you must be quite a threshing machine man.

I have written enough for tonight, I think. Will write to Hazel tomorrow if I can get time.

Church is going on now in here in the Y. M. C. A.

If you don't understand all about a camp now write and ask me what it is.

I met a young fellow from Dodge City, Kansas, today who knew Uncle Charley Burson and family.

It is quite cool this evening and my fingers are getting too cold to write so good night and be a good boy. Love to all. ARTHUR.

Worth Their Weight in Gold.

No man can do his best when suffering from backache, rheumatic pains, swollen joints, sore muscles or other symptoms of kidney trouble. B. H. Stone, 840 N. 2nd St., Reading, Pa., writes: "I contracted a most severe case of kidney trouble. I gradually grew worse and for months was unable to attend to business. I began to use Foley Kidney Pills and soon found the pains were gone and I have had no aches since. They have been worth their weight in gold to me." Sold Everywhere.—Adv.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
