War Nurses And Surgeons Facing An Endless Task

Washington, Oct. 5.—Word to the Red Cross from the front today painted a heroic and pitiful picture of the endless task confronting American surgeons and nurses struggling to keep abreast the stream of wounded men which constantly pours back upon them from the fighting front.

The experience of a base hospital staff organized under Dr. P. A. Besley of Chicago, is typical, depicting the terrific strain under which Red Cross units are laboring with the British and French armies.

Surgeons vainly endeavoring to breast the waves of wounded breaking on their operating tables work without food or rest until they collapse. "Dr. P. A. Besley has been operating all night. It is eleven o'clock in the morning, and he is still operating," wrote a member of the staff. Dr. Besley recently cabled for nine additional surgeons and twenty-five Red Cross nurses to assist him.

Dr. Besley's hospital is located three miles from the ocean in a large camp now under canvas. The civilians have all of their little tents in one locality and the nurses have temporary huts. The staff have only conical tents with out sides. The Red Cross is sending a cargo of lumber abroad to construct permanent quarters for these hospitals before winter sets in. Dr. Besley said in one of his letters:

"The English Tommy is certainly a great character. He never complains, no matter what happens to him, and the nurses find it difficult to get him to say what he really needs. He is always cheerful and contented, and loves to tell what the British did to the Boches at Vimy Ridge. The simple democratic manners of the American doctor please the patients and seem to cheer the wounded men greatly. Allied officers visit the camp every day, and praise highly the work of our men." A recent cable said:

"The Chicago Unit at present is caring for more wounded and sick than any other American Unit in France. The Boston Unit has only a few hundred fewer cases. The doctors and enlisted men in both units have been working steadily and without much sleep, because there are not enough of them to divide the work in shifts and at the same time give the wounded prompt attention. The orderlies seem tired but determined.

"Most of our enlisted men have been used to all the comforts of life," said one of the Chicago Unit staff. "They have never done any work half as hard as they are getting here, but they have been splendid all along and have come through with flying colors, without a single exception they have made good and we are proud of them."

strong showing of vegetable matter. It was this which gave the taste and odor. On the 27th of September, Dr. Richardson, City Health Officer, sent to the State Board of Health, samples taken from the river and from the water mains. The sample of river water was taken at a point above the packing plant, and upon analysis showed no typhoid germs or other harmful ingredients. Samples taken from the mains were also free from germs or colon bacilla. In other words, both samples of water were absolutely free from typhoid germs.

Superintendent Hoytt left this afternoon for Beaver Creek with three men and will start work in the morning piling out logs and removing rubbish, from the bed of the lake. As work progresses additional help will be supplied him. While he has a crew on Beaver Creek, he will also open the main pipe line and find out where the stoppage exists and arrange to put in proper blowoffs.

At present we are getting water directly from Beaver Creek, and the flow is sufficient to properly supply the town. We have let the contract for filling subway to Mr. Phillips, at 13 cents per cubic yard. The work will be finished in a few days as the railroad company is supplying the dirt as rapidly as Mr. Phillips can handle it.

The Street Department has made a canvas of the catch basins and properly cleaned same. We have opened the culverts and have practically finished getting ready for the winter storms. Examination of the septic tank shows same is properly functioning so no trouble is anticipated in that quarter this winter.

Now that people have quite generally supplied their wood for the winter and stored same in sheds and basements, we are getting alleys cleaned up, both in business and residence districts.

GERMAN AIRMEN KILLED THIRTY-SEVEN

Paris, Sept. 15.—(By Mail.)—German organization and thoroughness has failed in one respect—that of marking on German airmen's maps the location of German prison camps in France.

Thirty-seven of his countrymen dead and forty-three badly wounded was the net result of one German aviator's recent carelessness. An official announcement, just issued, gives the facts.

Here are the details: A squadron of German planes recently arrived over the coastline between Belgium and France on a bombing expedition. One of the airmen spied a group of hutments and detoured above. It was a prison camp full of captured Germans. The aviator shot an aerial torpedo. Below a column of prisoners were marching into camp after the day's work. The torpedo fell squarely in the center of the column.

The destruction of life was heavy though no building suffered. Hence the French official announcement's wording 'no material damage done.'

just been appointed by Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels as chairman of an executive committee which will direct a nation-wide campaign for a war-camp community-recognition fund to represent the true "Spirit of America." He will take charge at once and within a few days will have his assistants busy in every part of the United States.

This fund, which is being raised at the suggestion of President Woodrow Wilson, is to provide the "right sort" of recreation for soldiers in the communities near the new and old camps. The work is not a religious one, and unlike that of other existing organizations, is not conducted inside the camps themselves.

"Do Your Bit" Mr. Merchant

We are asking the live merchants in this city to cooperate with the newspaper, on International Newspaper Window Display Week beginning Monday.

We naturally want the displays of newspaper advertised products in this city to be a little better if possible than the showings that will be made in any of the 400 other cities.

We want the local show windows to be worthy of note, a credit to dealer and manufacturer.

We want every merchant to "do his bit"—and it is a very simple thing.

Put the goods that have been advertised by the manufacturer in this newspaper in your windows. Keep them there next week.

That's all there is to Window Week—Yet your displays added to the displays made elsewhere will make the greatest show window in the world.
