The New Millinery

We are pleased to announce our Complete Display of the New Autumn Millinery.

New Tailor Shapes with high crowns and broad, straight brims, high, conical crown hats, feather top turbans, wide brims with black trimming and others, many others. They will be most appreciated by those who see them first with their own eyes.

Don't guess who's going to be stylish in Millinery for Autumn—Come here and be certain.

hibition of thought transmission and thought projection is another feature of this part of the performance. Further enhancing the Murdock attraction is the Oriental dancing and singing offered in the Hindu Palace set by a heavy of Oriental girls. A clever pantomime in a Hindu harem opens the second part of the Spirito Seance which performance is undoubtedly the most completely baffling and startling performance ever witnessed.

SERBIA IS BEING DEPOPULATED BY WAR

By GEORGE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Oct. 9.—Red Cross cables today showing that the people of Serbia are being wiped off the map or scattered to the four corners of the earth by the Bulgar-Teuton war monster. Set upon by the enemy from three sides, their homes have been sacked and burned, their lands and store-houses pillaged and their defenseless women and children murdered or left to starve. Despair is written in the faces of the Serbian prisoners of war in Austria. Brutality is their daily lot; and what they get of food is not enough to keep body and soul together.

These black stories of Teuton cruelty and butchery were brought to Dr. Edward T. Ryan of the Red Cross at Salonika by Serbian prisoners returned.

If Italian prisoners in the Austrian camps had not shared their scanty packages from home with these 600 Serbian prisoners, all the Serbs would have died, Dr. Ryan reported. "Practically no food," said Dr. Ryan's cable, "was provided by their Austrian jailors. What was given amounted to eight ounces of bread a day. At noon they had vegetable soup with small piece of horse flesh, generally tainted. Morning and evening, a drink of black fluid known as coffee, made of chicory, was given with their bread. This was their whole ration."

"From an army of nearly a half million, at the beginning of the war, over 150,000 men are estimated to have been taken prisoners by the Central Powers. Nearly all of these are suffering from malnutrition in prison camps. Twenty thousand Serbs perished in the bloody repression of a revolt at Nish, last February. The Bulgarians have deported 30,000 inhabitants of Serbia to Asia Minor.

Fifty thousand fatherless families it is estimated are facing destitution, a problem comparable to that which would face the Red Cross and other charity organizations if the fathers of all the families in Louisville, St. Paul or Denver were suddenly deported. Fifty thousand families, a population about the size of Indianapolis or Providence, are interned in Austrian camps.

"The Serbian legation in Washington has just issued the following statement: 'In 1910 there were 1,568,048 inhabitants in Serbia; in 1916 1,218,000. The reduction in the male population in this region amounts to 339,000, the reduction in the female population in this region amounts to 40,000. In Serbia, as elsewhere in the southwestern part of Europe, the male population is greater than the female. The census records a proportion of 200 males to 144 females.'

Reports received at Red Cross headquarters show that there is need of doctors and nurses to care for the civilian population, as all the doctors have been pressed into the army service. Food, clothing, bandages, blankets, seeds and agricultural implements are also needed. In previous invasions, the enemy had destroyed the farming tools of this agricultural people. A system of soup kitchens in the villages is an absolute necessity, if famine is not to take a heavy toll this winter.

Prompt Action Averts Trouble.

Sluggish bowels indirectly cause much sickness. A constipated condition not only poisons the blood stream, but quickly affects the liver and other organs, causing biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach, bloating, etc. Foley Cathartic Tablets are mild in action, yet cleanse thoroughly, with no nausea and no costive after effects. They keep the bowels regular, stomach sweet and liver active. Stout persons welcome the comfortable, light, free feeling they bring.

Renaming Indians.

Some years ago, in order to make their inheritance of land more simple and secure, our government commissioned Dr. Charles A. Eastman, a Sioux Indian, to rename more than 15,000 Sioux with their family names. The task was a tremendous one and full of difficulties.

Where possible Dr. Eastman kept the original Sioux name of some member of a family, as in bestowing the name "Matoska," meaning "White Bear," on the family of that chief. Sometimes the combination of wife's name and husband's name has produced a musical result, such as "Winnona Otana." The favorite name for women means "she who has a beautiful home," which Dr. Eastman has Anglicized in the patronymic "Goodhouse." But by far the hardest task was in finding new names for the aboriginals of Indian nomenclature. "Bobtailed Coyote" was a young Indian who has come to prefer himself as "Robert T. Wolf." After a long struggle with "Rotten Pumpkin" Dr. Eastman at last recorded the owner of the name on the tribal records under the noncommittal title of "Robert Pumpkin."—Los Angeles Times.

A Test of Civilization.

The remarkable people of this world are useful in their way, but the common people, after all, represent the nation, the age and the civilization. Go into any town or city; do not ask who lives in that splendid house; do not say, "This is a fine town; here are streets of houses with gardens and yards and everything that is beautiful the whole way through. Go into the lanes, go into the back streets, go where the mechanic lives; go where the day laborer lives. See what is the condition of the streets there. See what they do with the poor, with the helpless and the mean. If the top of society bends perpetually over the bottom with tenderness, if the rich and strong are the best friends of the poor and needy, that is a civilized and a Christian community; but, if the rich and the wise are the cream and the great bulk of the population skimmilk, that is not a prosperous community.—Henry Ward Beecher.

A Notable Day's Work.

Robert Burns composed his masterpiece, "Tam o' Shanter," in one day in the open air. Burns went out of the house in the morning and, not returning, his wife joined him in the afternoon with her two children. Seeing that he was "crooning to himself," she forebore to interrupt him, but stayed in the fields at a distance, where she could see him. She observed him wildly gesticulating and at times fairly leaping with joy. She said to Allan Cunningham, the poet, after her husband's death, "I wish ye had seen him; he was in such ecstasy that the tears were happing down his cheeks." He committed the poem to writing by the riverside and went into the house and read it to his wife at the fireside with great triumph—one of the most notable day's work ever done in Scotland!

Only One Cost System.

The only cost system which is worth the use of paper and ink is that one which is an integral part of the general books of account. The day of the memorandum cost system has definitely passed. There is no way of proving cost results except through the general ledger, and since figures not known to be accurate are worse than worthless, being dangerous because misleading, it naturally follows that without adequate general ledger control the cost system is a menace to those who rely upon it.—Stephen Gilman in Industrial Management.

Splendid Test of Patriotism.

One of the most remarkable subscriptions ever raised in Great Britain was the one initiated by Pitt in 1790, in which year England rejected Napoleon's proposals of peace. Pitt appealed to all who could afford it to contribute voluntarily toward the expenses of the war. It was a splendid test of patriotism. Over £2,000,000 was actually raised in this way—a much more imposing sum than it looks when one considers that the population, largely poverty stricken, was then only about one-fifth its present size.—London Chronicle.

Compulsory Cleanliness.

"I don't believe in compulsory military training," said Meandering Mike. "A man should not be compelled to fight."

"Dat ain't de point," rejoined Pleading Pete. "If you get into trainin' you don't know whether you'll ever have to fight or not. But it's a sure 'ting dey'll make you use soap an' water regular, which is contrary to personal liberty."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

To Impress the Neighbors.

Mr. Wigsby—See here, my love, there is some mistake. The expressman left seven trunks on our front porch. Mrs. Wigsby (who has just returned from the mountains)—Imbecile! Don't you understand? He's coming back after dusk for the extra five.—Boston Transcript.

WE ASK YOU TO COMPARE MODART CORSETS Front Laced WITH ANY OTHER CORSETS

We ask you to compare for—quality. We ask you to compare for—lines. We ask you to compare for—workmanship.

And when you have given it a thorough, impartial test by wearing it—we will leave it to your judgment whether or not there is any other front laced corset in the Modart class. We chose to specialize on the Modart Front Laced Corset, to feature it in our advertising, to recommend it to our customers—only after a thorough study and search of the corset field. And only after we were convinced that no other front laced corsets compared with Modart in quality and fine fitting features, did we choose them.

Our expert, scientific corset fitting service always at your free disposal
