"AN EVEN BREAK" STARS OLIVE THOMAS.

With a company of more than 500 people and settings that are said to surpass in magnificence any yet brought to the screen, Olive Thomas, the noted "Follies" beauty and Harrison Fisher girl, will appear in the Triangle play "An Even Break," at the Arcade Theatre, Sunday only.

Through scenes of riotous splendor the vivacious star trips her way in costumes that only a "Follies" beauty can wear. She also dances in that spontaneous, individual manner that made her the favorite of Broadway during the past three seasons.

The story runs parallel with Miss Thomas' own career. It concerns a girl in a small town who goes to New York and travels the footlight trail to fame. Although this is "silent" drama, it photographs so effectively the choruses, dancers and big jazz bands of a pretentious Broadway cafe that it might be called a gigantic musical comedy on naovass.

Charles Gunn, Margaret Thompson, Darrel Foss, Charles K. French, J. Frank Burke and Louis Durham support Miss Thomas. The play was written and directed by Lambert Hillier.

WALLACE REID'S LATEST STUNT

Wallace Reid, the ever-popular Paramount star who will be seen at the Arcade Theatre on Monday and Tuesday in "The Hostage," has accomplished nearly everything possible in the line of "stunts," fights, etc., except being tortured by fire; and this is what is done to him in "The Hostage."

These scenes were taken the day after Mr. Reid has been severely sunburned, and, according to own statement, no great call upon his artistic ability to depict the pain was necessary for every moment was the real sort of "torture."

TREAT OF A LIFE TIME IN STORE FOR THIS SECTION

VICE PRESIDENT THOMAS R. MARSHALL.

THE appearance of the vice president of the United States as one of the lecturers on the lyceum course would be an event at any time, and at this particular stage in the nation's history, when there are so many vital questions to be discussed and so many things concerning which the people are anxious to be advised, the announcement that Hon. Thomas R. Marshall, now serving his second term as vice president, is to speak here becomes the most important announcement of the year.

Unlike some men in public life who are called to the platform solely because of their political activities rather than by reason of abilities peculiarly fitting them to discuss public questions from the platform, Mr. Marshall is a speaker who has something interesting to say and has the happy faculty of saying it in a most entertaining way. For several years he has been devoting a short space of time to platform lectures, and his addresses have elicited commendation wherever delivered.

Members and friends of the Grande Ronde Chautauqua Association and the public will no doubt appreciate that Mr. Marshall is coming, and further that arrangements to give them first chance at the reserved seats have been perfected. Exchange tickets are now going out to them and they may be reserved at the Red Cross Drug store before November 1. After that date if any seats are left, the public at large will have an opportunity to obtain seats. The expense of bringing the vice president here runs into several hundred dollars and for that reason admission fees are required. For further particulars, address Dr. W. D. McMillan or A. W. Nelson. The lecture will be at the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"LITTLE PIRATE STARS" MISS ZOE RAE.

Zoe Rae, the star of the Butterfly picture, "The Little Pirate," which comes to the Star Theatre on Sunday and Monday is only six years old. But she has definitely made up her mind what she is going to do with her life. She never thinks of herself as doing anything but playing for the camera, and she has chosen the Divine Sarah as her ideal, and her model. She was taken to see Bernhardt's great Bluebird picture, "Jeanne Dore," and though she cried herself almost sick over the sad story, she declared that she had never had such a good time in her life.

Zoe loves an emotional part and the zest with which she entered into the scene in "The Little Pirate," in which the two children, alone at night on an island, are frightened by the howling of a stray dog, caused her director, Elsie Jane Wilson, to prolong the little scene more than the scenario writer originally intended.

"Zoe registered such an extravagance of terror," said Miss Wilson, "that I let the scene run quite a bit longer. I never saw such a child. A single word is enough for her, and she is more responsive than any actor I have ever known. One may play upon her emotions at will, and she is never cross, or out of sorts, as most screen children are at some time or other. Yet off the screen she is just a natural, jolly baby, and loves playing with her dolls and puppies. She is just filled with talent and I am sure that her future is a very great one."

File Petitions. SALEM, Oct. 27.—(Special).—The Willowa County commissioners, the city of Grants Pass and also Gold Hill have filed requests with the Public Service Commission asking to be relieved from placing warning signs at railroad crossings.

Don't forget the souvenir Halloween dance at Rex Hall, Tuesday, Oct. 30. Everybody welcome. An augmented orchestra with all the latest music. 10-26-31

The Whole Neighborhood Knows.

Mrs. Ann Pelzer, 2526 Jefferson St., So. Omaha, Neb., writes: "I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar as a sure cure for coughs and colds. It cured my daughter of a bad cold. My neighbor, Mrs. Benson, cured herself and her whole family with Foley's Honey and Tar, and everyone in our neighborhood speaks highly of it." This reliable family remedy masters croup. It clears the air passages and eases the gasping, strangling fight for breath. Sold Everywhere—Adv.

WE ASK YOU TO COMPARE MODART CORSETS Front Laced WITH ANY OTHER CORSETS

We ask you to compare for—quality. We ask you to compare for—lines. We ask you to compare for—workmanship.

And when you have given it a thorough, impartial test by wearing it—we will leave it to your judgment whether or not there is any other front laced corset in the Modart class. We chose to specialize on the Modart Front Laced Corset, to feature it in our advertising, to recommend it to our customers—only after a thorough study and search of the corset field. And only after we were convinced that no other front laced corsets compared with Modart in quality and fine fitting features, did we choose them.
