Mrs. Henry Hill, Mrs. C. R. Hibbard and Mrs. C. D. Emahiser were delightful hostesses at a bridge party given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hibbard on Fourth street. Hallowe'en decorations were used and the entire color scheme was black and yellow, even to the prizes which were won by Mrs. T. J. Scroggin, Mrs. M. B. Donohue and consolation prize by Mrs. J. D. Slater. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Frank Recklin was a charming hostess to a kensington yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. D. C. Crawlord, of Reith, Or. After a delightful afternoon was spent a two-course luncheon was served. Those present were Mrs. Dupes, Mrs. E. Jacobsen, Mrs. Charles Noyes, Mrs. C. C. Bull, Mrs. J. Walnum, Mrs. F. Charboneau, Mrs. Frank Bay and the hostess. Mrs. Crawford is here visiting her two daughters, Mrs. F. Charboneau and Mrs. Frank Bay.

The Neighborhood Club will meet next Tuesday and hold a "Patriotic Musical Day." The program includes a reading by Mrs. Harry Talbot; address "Women's Patriotism," by Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe; a musical program arranged by Miss Hilda Anthony. In the evening at the club rooms the annual educational evening will be held at which the teachers of the city will be the guests of honor. Reports will also be received from the delegates to the State Federation of Women's Clubs, who have returned from Prineville.

There will be food enough for all—but none for waste. There will be money in abundance for the purchase of all desirable commodities. Do not delay the buying of something you need in the fear that a money stringency may come. This action on your part would be equivalent to voting for a money stringency.

Will Observe Day of Prayer—In accordance with the President's proclamation, there will be prayers offered at each service in St. Peter's Church on Sunday, for the success of American arms. But a special effort will be made to make the 11 o'clock service most impressive. The hymns have been selected for their appropriateness, and after the sermon, which will be on "Prayer as an Aid to Victory," a short office of intercession will follow for the various branches of the Army and Navy, Hospital Corps, and for the dead and dying. A litany hymn which is entitled "Passing Souls" and is much used in England, will be sung for the first time. All who have no regular place of worship here, are invited to attend.

Save Three Per Cent—Here is a valuable suggestion to some of the business men and he who runs may read. After midnight of October 31, 1917, the war revenue act becomes effective, providing for the collection of a 3 per cent tax on all freight bills Both of the railroads in the city will be obliged to begin charging the extra three per cent on all freight not only on all freight bills in the office, but those that happen to come in a few hours after midnight of October 31. In order to escape this tax it behooves merchants who may have overlooked a freight bill of a few days before the 31st to get busy and visit the freight office and dig up. The freight agent will have nothing to do but just tack on that war three per cent on every bill he happens to have on hand when he gets down to the office on the morning of Nov. 1.

Take Over Local House—The W. B. Glafke Co., one of the largest commission houses of Portland, has taken over the Smith-Noble Produce Co. and placed Harley Smith as local manager. W. F. Erdman, who was with the La Grande Fruit Co. for six months last year, is the sales manager for the Portland house and in charge of all local branches of the Glafke Co and has been in La Grande for the past few days. During the two weeks the new firm has been operating, they have shipped five cars of melons, several cars of potatoes, have taken over the business of apples of the Walla Walla Grain of Island City. Flagg's group will run about 1500 boxes of packed apples, mostly Jonathans and Rome Beauty's.

Ships Local Produce—The W. B. Glafke Co is shipping produce out of local points and two cars of apples this afternoon to the Portland market. The cars were ready to be shipped today, but because of [illegible] they will be delayed.

Judge Medina to Leave—Judge Henry F. Medina of Portland, who has been the [illegible] defending the Chinese [illegible] case with the wife for Portland, Judge Medina is one of the most distinguished attorneys in Oregon. He was the great personal friend of the late Harvey W. Scott. He is the man who closed open gambling in Portland. He is a great orator and a man without fear. He has been mentioned for United States senator but has declined in favor of United States Senator McNary because he doesn't want politics to interfere with patriotism. He is not a hypocrite. He says what he thinks. On the bench he handed down decisions, not because he thought that they would help him be reelected but because he thought that they were right. "Be sure, you're right then go ahead," is his motto. Judge McGinn has been here several weeks. He has spoken several times for the Liberty Bonds here in La Grande. A big man like he is entitled to honor, but Judge McGinn doesn't care much for these little honors. He has lived quietly in our midst at the Foley Hotel, made friends with the lowly and the obscure, and departed like the quiet man he is almost unheard of and unsung. This is what he likes. He is a friend of the common people. Hypocricy, pretension, newly rich, ostentation, waste, all these qualities annoy him. He is a real man and he hates sham. Those who got acquainted with Henry E. McGinn on this trip are fortunate. Those who didn't, don't know what they missed.
