Old Timers Recall Dog And Bear Fight Pulled Off In 1892

Many good stories are told in the R. R. Club on Fir Street. The story of how J. C. Gulling's bulldog fought a finish fight with a big black bear in the old warehouse on Jefferson street between Fir and Greenwood streets is worth retelling.

First, however, a few words about the owner of the bulldog; J. C. Gulling is the oldest conductor on the O. W. R. & N., having been longer in the employ of the company than any other conductor by 15 years. Mr. Gulling was born in Ohio in 1857 and when he was 13 years of age ran away from the Notre Dame School of Indiana, with two other lads of about the same age and beat their way to Omaha with the intention of joining a caravan for California.

The two other lads got cold feet, but young Gulling joined the 20 wagon train of Joe Decker, Joe being given the job of driving the band of 50 mares that were driven along with the train. The wagons were hauled by three spans of mules to the wagon, and not a mule was lost on the whole trip.

Arriving in California Joe worked for Decker for four years, and then for two more years in Colusa County. When he was 11 he started to work as a brakeman for the C. P. R. R. and has been in harness until seven years ago when he had a slight paralytic stroke and retired from active service.

Gulling arrived in La Grande 31 years ago and this famous dog and bear fight took place in 1892. La Grande was not much of a town then but at times it was quite lively as it was a great shipping point for cattle.

One day an Italian drifted into town with the largest black bear ever seen in the town and boasted that no dog or dogs could lick his bear and that it had killed all the dogs in Hillgard. Gulling, Jack McCarthy and Patsy O'Toole declared that Joe's bull could whip that bear if he got a show, and Patsy O'Toole told the Italian that he had better take care of his bear as there was a dog in town that would kill it. The excited Italian bet first $50 then $100 that his bear would kill the bulldog in five minutes and a match was finally arranged for the Fair week.

The Italian slept in the warehouse to guard his bear against accidents, but Gulling and O'Toole after much maneuvering got him drunk and then lassoed the bear, which was chained to a heavy upright, and stretching him out they ran a bale of hay up to the animal until one of his paws was up on the bale and proceeded to amputate his big claws with a pair of wire clippers. This they succeeded in doing to all purposes in the course of a couple of hours' hard work.

The night of the fight Mrs. Gulling had the dog tied securely in the back yard as rumors of the fight had spread over town, but when the time came Jack McCarthy stole the dog and he and Gulling covered it with half an inch of lard well rubbed into the hair.

The old warehouse was lighted up with four big headlights and crowded to the door when time was called. There were many notable present. Among them being Bill Matlock, of Pendleton; Charley Hyde, of Baker; the Sheriff of Baker County, J. M. Berry, late of Island City; Charley Baker, Mr. White, a lawyer of Baker; the Prosecuting Attorney and many others. The dog and bear fought for half an hour then rested and fought another half hour when the fight was declared a draw. It was impossible for the bear to rip the dog open as he had no claws; he could not hug him to death as the bear's paws got so greasy and slippery that the dog always squirmed away and never gave the bear a good chance for a bite.

The Italian paid his debt and was so disgusted that he sold the animal to a butcher for its hide. Between the bet and the gate receipts Gulling and O'Toole divided up $400.

ROOSEVELT FIRES CROWD.
More Than $50,000 Subscribed at the Close of Address. (United Press.)
OYSTER BAY, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—After Colonel Theodore Roosevelt had delivered a stirring address at a Liberty Day gathering Wednesday afternoon, emphasizing the duties of the citizenry of this country in the war, the audience subscribed more than $50,000 to the Liberty Loan.

"Some folks ask: Why should our boys fight abroad?" Colonel Roosevelt said. Then pausing for a moment he said: "Our boys are fighting abroad with the allies so that they will not have to fight at home without allies. No man should wave a flag, sing a patriotic song or cheer unless he is willing to help out. He should shoot the way he shouts."

YOUNG VETERAN SENT HOME; UNDER AGE.
(United Press.)
NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 27.—A veteran with two years active service to his credit is William K. Nevard, aged 17. He is back at his home here today—returned by the military authorities because he is under age.

Nevard enlisted as a bugler August 19, 1914, when only 14 years old. He served 23 months in France, part of the time with the transport section and part of the time as a runner.

He is believed to be the youngest veteran in Canada.

"Central" Appreciates Your Kindness

There are three operators concerned in every telephone call—you, the party you are talking to and "central."

All three parties must co-operate if the best service is to be had.

The telephone operators are human, just as you are.

Being human, they appreciate kindness and courtesy, but resent unkindness and discourtesy just as any of us do.

Kindness begets kindness, courtesy creates courtesy and patience encourages patience.

If you wish to get the best out of your telephone, make it a point to be kind and courteous to the operators.
