ARCADE

LOUISE GLAUM STARS IN "GOLDEN RULE KATE"

Louise Glaum as a sagebrush siren in her latest Triangle play, "Golden Rule Kate," will be the feature at the Arcade Theatre Sunday only.

She appears as the proprietress of the "Right-Light" saloon and dance hall in a western mining town. The curious garments, such as "the devil gown," "the spider dress" and "the peacock robe," which have contributed to the fame of this "siren supreme," are temporarily displayed by the buckskin skirt and bead-trimmed accoutrements of a dance hall girl, who might be described as a "female Bill Hart."

One of the most exciting and humorous moments of the play is supplied when Golden Rule Kate orders one of the cowpunchers to go forth, lasso the village preacher and drag him into the dance hall. Fortunately, Kate's wrath for the "sky-pilot" is mollified, and she makes a compact with him whereby it is agreed that she will attend his church every Sunday and he will tend bar in her saloon one hour each day.

This character is so utterly different from the recent successes scored by Miss Glaum that it will be acclaimed as novelty, although it is similar to her earlier parts when she served as a foil for Hart in his western pictures.

The piece was directed by Reginald Barker from a story by Monte M. Katterjohn, and the cast includes such prominent Triangle players as Jack Gilbert, Gertrude Claire, Mildred Harris, Jack Richardson, William Conklin and J. P. Lockney.

BILLIE BURKE AT THE ARCADE MONDAY

From the very first foot of film "The Mysterious Miss Terry" which is Billie Burke's latest Paramount Picture, holds the attention and interest at top notch. A mysterious cab is seen appearing out of the gloom of a London fog. It stops before a stately mansion and a veiled lady descends, peers cautiously around and enters the house.

This inscrutable young person performs all sorts of kindly miracles for the people in her boarding house later on in the picture but it is not until the final breathlessly absorbing denouement that her identity is discovered.

Billie Burke in "The Mysterious Miss Terry" will appear at the Arcade Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS THOUSANDS OF WORKERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—Our Uncle Sam wants help.

Federal officials here today said never since the inauguration of civil service has the government needed so many men and women.

Ten thousand workers in 24 different lines are needed.

Examinations will be held at principal cities through this civil service district today, November 17 and December 1.

Many government offices are said to be working short-handed because of the government's inability to get qualified employees.

WESTERN MEN WILL STUDY GASOLINE ENGINES

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—A large party of young men from the Pacific northwest are on their way to New York today to take a special course in gasoline engines at Columbia university. They were enlisted in the navy here as machinists' mates, second class.

After several months at the big New York college, the men will probably be assigned to duty aboard Atlantic coast patrol boats.

The party left Portland Thursday and will start their studies next week.

Get on the firing line with a camera and bring a little cheer to the boys across the water, by sending a few pictures of home. Cameras and kodaks from 75c to $55.00 at Silverthorn's Family Drug Store. 11-3-tf.

This Space Has Been Contributed by the Standard Laundry

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29, 1917.

To Mrs. Thomas Goodhue, Sec'y. American Red Cross Chapter, La Grande, Ore.:

Following cable just received from Major Murphy, France:

Millions of Red Cross standard surgical dressings must be sent immediately or serious calamity inevitable. American women must prepare with greatest speed dressings which will mean life or death to our boys. Please give widest publicity calling in all possible workers. Letter follows. LUCY C. HILTON,

Director of Woman's Bureau.

"In order that we may better visualize this tremendous need, Major Murphy also informs us that cases are numerous where an entire box of dressings is used on one patient.

"Please make it clear to your workers that in doing this work they are rendering real service and one which will mean the life or death of our own men

"We beg you to give this matter the greatest possible publicity, that your Chapter's output may be increased fourfold within the next month.

In doing this, however, please do not discontinue other work.

"Thanking you for your co-operation and many courtesies, we beg to remain.

"Very truly yours,
